Largest Meeting Ever Held in the State.

DEMOCRATS RALLYING TO GRANT'S STANDARD.

Grant and Wilson Meeting in New Haven, Conn.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 18.—One of the largest political meetings ever held in the State was held this evening in this city. Some 10,000 persons assembled on the green to ratify the nomination of Grant and Wilson. There were music, fire works and salutes. The meeting was presided over by Governor Jewell, and addresses were made by Senator Buckingham, Hon. Thos. H. Bond, Hon. H. L. Dawes, of Massachusetts, and Representatives Kellogg, Strong and Starkweather. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed. Bond's speech attracted great attention, inasmuch as he has acted with the Democratic party for years, has been a Democratic member of the State Senate and candidate of the Democracy for Lieutenant Governor. He took the ground that the Democratic party had sold out, and that between Grant and Greeley he must choose Grant as being much the safer man.

Hon. Charles Atwater, late candidate of the Democracy for Lieutenant Governor, was one of the Vice Presidents of the meeting, he taking the same ground as Mr. Bond.

Extracts from Hon. D. W. Voorhees' Speech at Spencer, Ind., on Accepting the Congressional Nomination.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 18.—In accepting the Democratic nomination for Congress at the Convention in Spencer to-day, Mr. Voorhees made a long and elaborately prepared speech, of which the following are extracts:

In opposing the nomination of Mr. Greeley, I acted on principle, and no one will expect me now or hereafter to retract a word I have spoken or written on that subject. The influence of my words, if they had any, was directed to the Baltimore Convention. They must stand as my sincere utterances on behalf of an object over which that body had legitimate authority and ultimate control, but I will doubtless be reminded that my views were not adopted at Baltimore, and that my opinions were disregarded. All this is true, and I do not pretend to disguise my deep regret. I would gladly have it otherwise, and I have given the subject as careful and as conscientious an examination, in order to ascertain the true path of duty, as it has been in my power to make.

I shall abandon no principle on which I have heretofore obtained your support.

Meeting of Republican National Executive Committee.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Republican Executive Committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon, which was executive in character, and, for the most part, secret. A measure was discussed for forwarding the canvass in Pennsylvania, Indiana, North Carolina and West Virginia. Ex-Senator Abbott made a cheering report of the canvass in North Carolina. Col. Errett, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, appeared from Pennsylvania in place of W. H. Kemble, who is ill. A suggestion was considered from West Virginia looking to the utilization of all elements opposed to Democratic Liberalism in that State. The details of the campaign are to be organized within a few days at the headquarters here, which will be at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

President Grant Interviewed.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Herald interviewer reports from Long Branch that President Grant has announced his intention to visit the Canadian border the last of the week. He will go down the St. Lawrence and visit the Thousand Islands and other points of interest. In reference to the indirect claims the President thought America had gained a great triumph over Great Britain. President Grant regards the North Carolina prospect as excellent. He says he goes to Washington when any Government matter requires his presence, but won't go this week, as nothing demands a Cabinet meeting for some time. He says the trouble with Greeley was, he wanted to fill all of his (the President's) offices with bad men.

Meeting of Missouri Liberal State Committee.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—The Liberal Republican State Committee held a meeting yesterday evening, at which measures were taken for the immediate organization of county and district committees throughout the State. The vacancies in the committees were filled and another meeting ordered for July 25th, to determine when the State Convention shall be held.

The Liberal Convention at the same time and place ratified the Democratic nomination and pledged a hearty support to the nominee.

District of Columbia Nomination.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Purvis wing of the Republican party in the District Convention to-day nominated N. G. Ordway, now Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, for delegate in Congress from the District of Columbia. He declined the nomination, but the convention adjourned for one week, in order to give him time to reconsider his declination.

Preparing for the Campaign in Illinois.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The Republican State Central Committee, together with the Republican candidates for State officers and a number of influential members of the party from various parts of the State, met here to-day to arrange a plan for the campaign in the State. The Republican demonstration here to-morrow night it is anticipated will be a grand affair.

The Ascendency of the Republican Party to be Maintained.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—McKee & Hauser, formerly of the Democrat, issued their new paper, the Globe, this morning. They fly a Grant and Wilson flag, and announce their purpose to use their best endeavors to preserve unity and maintain the ascendancy of the Republican party.

North Carolina Liberals Supporting the Democratic State Ticket.

RALEIGH, July 18.—The Executive Committee of the Liberal Republicans of this State issued a circular instructing the party to endorse and support the Democratic and Conservative State ticket, headed by Judge Merriman.

Eighth Ohio District Republican Nominations.

CINCINNATI, July 18.—Hon. Wm. Lawrence was nominated to-day at Urbana as the Republican candidate for Congress from the eighth district. Charles Phillis, of Madison county, was nominated as Republican elector.

New York Republican Convention Called.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Chairman Cornell, of the Republican State Committee, issued a call for the State Convention to be held at Utica, August 21st, to nominate State officers and representatives at large in Congress, and also Presidential electors.

Greeley Endorsed by Thieving Tammany.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Tammany general committee to-night ratified the nomination of Greeley and Brown, and appointed a committee to arrange for a mass ratification meeting.

Secretary Boutwell in Charlotte, N. C.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 18.—Secretary Boutwell spoke in the court house here to-day in support of the administration and with reference to the finances.

WHEELING.

Damage by the Rains.

WHEELING, July 18.—The continued heavy rains of last night and to-day have caused more damage to property than was at first supposed. Jefferson street is washed out from Main street to the river to a depth of twenty-five to forty feet. Cellars were flooded and goods destroyed. The damage in the country adjacent is equal to the city. Fences were carried away and great quantities of grain destroyed and damaged. The flood carried away the trestling from under two bridges on the Hempfield Railroad. Passengers are transfered at the breaks. The damage will be repaired to-morrow, or as soon as the water subsides. The river here is ten feet two inches, and rising very fast.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Late Whipping of a Colored Marshal.

RALEIGH, July 18.—United States Commissioner R. W. Best has issued warrants for the arrest of a number of parties engaged in the attempted assassination and whipping of the colored Greeley Marshal Cross, who came to the city to-day from the woods, where he had concealed himself. The investigation before the Commissioner takes place to-morrow. A large number of subpœnas have been issued, and it is supposed many more arrests will result therefrom.

CALIFORNIA.

The Golden State's Productions.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The steamer Sacramento, for Panama, carried nine hundred and forty-four thousand dollars in treasure, including three-quarters of a million in coin for Peru, twenty-two thousand gallons of California wine and brandy, and twenty-four hundred centals of wheat for England, shipped at four pounds ten shillings. This is the first shipment of the kind ever made.

BOSTON.

Nail Manufacturers' Convention.

BOSTON, July 18.—At the New England convention of nail manufacturers, a formal vote in favor of adherence to the present prices was passed. The old board was re-elected. The next convention will probably be in September, at Philadelphia.

GREAT BRITAIN.

BURNING IN EFFIGY.

DUBLIN, July 18.—Baron Teasy in the opening of the trial of the person charged with burning Justice Keogh in effigy, said the outrage was witnessed by thousands of Keogh's fellow countrymen with savage satisfaction. Such scenes could not take place in any other civilized country. They would not come to be tolerated in the great Republic during the Presidential contest.

CHOLERA.

LONDON, July 18.—A Berlin letter to the Times says: "The cholera is fast making its way from the interior of Russia to the Prussian frontier. God preserve Berlin if it visits us this year. Owing to the gross negligence of the municipal authorities, some of the abroad navigable water courses in this city were a few years ago converted into open sewers. The most aristocratic quarter is perhaps most subject to pestilential vapors. In the meantime the mortality is rapidly on the increase here, having reached four per cent. against two and one-half in 1867.

INTERNATIONAL PRISON CONGRESS.

The International Prison Congress is in session here. All European Governments, with the exception of Portugal, were represented on the opening day. America, both North and South, was also well represented. Earl Caernarvon, in the opening speech, welcomed the delegates, but expressed regret that the British Government, when applied to, refused to aid financially the scheme of reform contemplated.

ROYAL HONORS TO NELLIE GRANT.

On Monday, July 2, writes a correspondent of the Manchester papers, the covers which concealed the throne and royal chairs of state in the House of Lords were removed in honor of a visit from Miss Nellie Grant, daughter of the President of the United States. This is a compliment which has never been paid, except to a royal visitor; the throne, &c., is always covered up during debates, except on occasions when bills receive the Royal assent by commission.

SWITZERLAND.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ARBITRATION.

LONDON, July 18.—The British agent at Geneva has presented a demurrer praying that the tribunal exclude the cases of the Tallahassee, Chickamauga, Sumter, Nashville, Retribution, Boston, Sallie, Jeff Davis, V. A. Jay, and Music. Pending a decision, each side presented a process containing the essence of the argumentative portion of the case and counter cases. A summary of the America argument and a statement in the case of the Florida was presented to-day.

RAILROADS

Grand Rapids & Indiana.

DETROIT, July 18.—At the annual meeting of the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Company, held in Grand Rapids yesterday, the following Directors were elected: Wm. A. Howard, H. J. Hollister, Geo. H. White, of Grand Rapids; Perry Hannah, of Traverse City; J. G. Wait, of Sturgis; Andrew Ellison, of La Grange, Indiana; Charles D. Band, Franklin P. Randall, Pliny Howgland, of Fort Wayne; J. N. McCullough, Thomas D. Messier and Springer Harbaugh, of Pittsburgh; Maucell Talcott, of Chicago. Hon. W. A. Howard was subsequently elected President, and W. P. Shelby Secretary and Treasurer. The annual report exhibited a healthy condition of the Company's affairs, and it was determined to push the road through to Mackinaw without delay.

MICHIGAN AND LAKE SHORE.

The new Board of Directors of the Michigan & Lake Shore Railroad Company elected yesterday are as follows: G. W. Cass, J. N. McCullough, Thomas D. Messler, William Thaw, of Pittsburgh; Thomas A. Scott, of Philadelphia; S. J. Tilden, of New York; Joseph Fisk, E. P. Ferry, and L. G. Mason, of Michigan. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Thos. D. Messler, President; Joseph Fisk, Vice President, and W. R. Shelby, Secretary and Treasurer.

ST. LOUIS.

House of Refuge Investigation.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—The formal examination into the House of Refuge affairs took place this afternoon. Several persons now or formerly connected with the institution were examined under oath, the weight of whose testimony was that Mr. Gleason, the Superintendent, was a kind-hearted, lenient man, in fact, too easy to maintain proper discipline in such an establishment. The whippings under examination, it appears, were performed by Mr. Blair, the Assistant Superintendent, who doubtless exceeded his instruction. The examination will be continued on Saturday.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS,

From Various Points.

—A grand Grant and Wilson ratification meeting has been called in Chicago for to-night.

—The Liberals of Indianapolis held their first demonstration of the campaign last night.

—The steamers St. Laurent, from Brest, and Nebraska, from Liverpool, have arrived at New York.

—Senator Fenton, of New York, delivered a speech on the national finances in Albany last night.

—President Guardan, of Costa Rica, arrived in New York on Wednesday, on a visit to President Grant.

—Horace P. Beddle, of Logansport, Indiana, was nominated for Congress by the Democrats and Liberal Republicans.

—A New York Herald dispatch now contradicts the former statement that Gen. Banks had gone over to the Liberal Republicans.

—John H. Jefferies, a prominent citizen residing near Loudonville, Ohio, was trampled to death in a frightful manner by horses.

—It is reported that Gen. De Schweinitz, the German envoy to Austria, is espoused to the daughter of the United States Minister.

—The Democratic Congressional Convention of the Sixteenth Illinois District met at Vandalia on Wednesday, and nominated Silas L. Bryan, of Marion county.

—A secret session of the Executive Council of the Union League of America, was held in New York at which it was resolved to co-operate with the National Committee.

—The stage between Dallas and Canon City, Oregon, was robbed by three highwaymen on Tuesday. Twelve to fifteen thousand dollars were taken from the mails.

—Arrangements have been made for the unveiling of the monument to be erected in New York in honor of Sir Walter Scott, which will probably take place August 15.

—A London dispatch from Port Said announces the arrival there, and subsequent departure for England, of Stanley, the hero of the Livingstone search. He is accompanied by the son of Livingstone.

—Several cars on the end of a freight train on the Indianapolis Junction Railroad, when near Camden, Ohio, on Wednesday night, became detached, and another freight train that was following ran into them, wrecking eight cars and injuring one brakeman.

—The Norwegians in Chicago yesterday celebrated the one thousandth anniversary of Norway's nationality by a procession in the morning, a mass meeting with speeches, music and poetry at Moss Park in the afternoon, and a grand banquet in the Barnes House in the evening.

—Saratoga advices seem to regard the Barnard trial as likely to result disastrously to the accused. The resignation of Barnard's former counsel, George F. Curtis, is said to be due to the fact that he advised his client to resign to the conclusion of the Assembly investigation.

—The crop reports from Central Wisconsin state that they promise well. The small grains, with the exception of spring wheat, will return a full average. The crop of spring wheat has been badly damaged by the drouth and chinch bug, and the yield will be light. Corn shows well, but rain is needed to insure a good crop.

—A prominent member of the German House of Representatives writes confirming the news that Bismarck is to try to stop by legislation the great flow of emigration from the Empire to the United States, and characterizes the movement as stupid, saying the only way to prevent emigration is to award the people the same advantages as they have here.

—A Saratoga dispatch says: I paid a visit to Harper's stables, and there stood the wreck of Long Branch racing greatness in undignified attitude, on three legs. He is gone forever. The wound in the heel is nothing compared to the breaking of the tendon, and it is the middle one, too, and to use the precise language of his trainer, "He'll never more than walk—run, he couldn't."

—At Illepolis, Ill., a feud has been in progress for the past two weeks between one Dickerson and a man named Cauterell and their respective friends. On Saturday night last a pitched battle took place, in which the Dickerson party were roughly used. Mr. J. M. Burch dressed the wounds of the vanquished party, and subsequently was assaulted by the Cauterell party therefor. In the evening Burch went in company with a posse to arrest his assailants. A fight ensued, during which Burch fired into the crowd, wounding a man named Kendall, an adherent of Cautrell, that he died on Wednesday. Burch was arrested and held to bail.

NEW CITY BONDS AUTHORIZED.

Arrival of the New French Minister.

NEW YORK, July 18, 1872.

ISSUE OF BONDS AUTHORIZED.

The Board of Apportionment authorized the Comptroller to issue $750,000 bonds for the use of the departments of Public Works and Croton aqueduct.

ARRIVAL OF FRENCH MINISTER.

The Marquis De Novilles, the new French Minister, arrived this evening with his family, in the St. Laurent, and is stopping at the Brevoort House. He was met down the bay by Deputy Collector Des Angues and the French Consuls at this port and New Orleans, and conveyed to the city by the revenue cutter General Grant. He intends leaving his family in New York before proceeding to Washington.

SOUTH CAROLINA BONDHOLDERS.

At a meeting of the South Carolina bondholders to-day, the committee reported little progress in the collection of subscriptions for prosecuting their claims against the State, and a resolution was adopted requesting all holders to contribute one per cent. on the par value of the bonds for use in contemplated suits.

BOWLING GREEN SAVINGS BANK.

A dividend of 25 per cent., amounting to $112,000, has been ordered to be paid to the creditors of the Bowling Green Savings Bank.

THE WEATHER.

The weather continues hot. The thermometer reached ninety. There were many cases of sun-stroke.

SARATOGA.

The Cases of Barnard, Tweed, and Connelly.

SARATOGA, July 18.—The Court of Impeachment met this morning, and at the request of the counsel for Barnard it adjourned until to-morrow to enable him to counsel with his associates.

At the conclusion of the argument in the Tweed and Connelly cases to-day court adjourned until September next, when a decision will be rendered.

PERSONAL.

MARIO, the king of tenors, has sold his Florentine estate for $300,000.

JOHN VAN NESS, a wealthy citizen of Long Island, told his brother he was tired of life, took arsenic and died.

THE sale of Thiers' literary works is said to have markedly diminished since his elevation to the Presidency.

HIS Spanish Majesty is said to drink nothing stronger than water, which lead many persons to wonder where he gets his spirit.

MATILDA HERON read "Camille" at a benefit, Thursday evening, in San Francisco, but the occasion was a painful one both to herself and friends.

BISHOP J. T. PECK of Syracuse, N. Y., has been dangerously ill, caused by a carbuncle on the back of his neck, but was somewhat better yesterday afternoon.

CHARLES BEKE, the American traveller, thinks that Dr. Livingstone will alter his mind, and come right home, as soon as he learns how anxious his European friends are to see him.

MADAME LUCCA, who is to appear in this country next season, is a baroness, and is the mother of two golden-haired children. She is to be accompanied on her travels by her husband, a gentleman who is said to be in every way worthy of so gifted a wife.

A WAITER girl in the Coliseum refreshment saloon is reported to have stolen the heart of one of the members of the British Grenadier band, and a vacancy in that musical body and an emigration of a certain Johnny Bull from old England to New will soon take place in consequence.

JOHANN STRAUSS sailed on the steamer Donau, of the North German line, on Saturday, for Europe. He expressed himself at parting as being delighted with his reception and warm welcome to this country, and returned thanks to the press in general for the courtesy with which he has been mentioned.

JOAQUIN MILLER is at Niagara Falls. He is attracting attention by riding out daily in full Mexican dress, with the sombrero hat. The saddle used by him cost $600, and is hung with Mexican dollars. His pony is both fleet and small, and he is enjoying the curiosity he arouses every time he makes his appearance.

THE proposed visit of the Emperor of Austria to Berlin is the subject of considerable gossip in the Austrian and German capitals. It is regarded as the natural consequence of the meeting at Ischol and Salzburg last year. Since 1866 there has been a coolness between the two Kaisers, which was in part cleared up by the meeting of 1871. The visit of Francis Joseph to Berlin this year will complete the work of reconciliation begun last fall.

AMERICAN NICK-NAMES.

A Compilation by the "Pall Mall Gazette."

That familiarity with prominent public men, peculiar to American freedom, which consists in calling them by any name except that given to them by their godfathers and godmothers in their baptism, is strongly marked in the case of Mr. Horace Greeley. Mr. Greeley has not been many weeks before the public as a candidate for the Presidency, but he is already affectionately referred to by his supporters among the press as "Old Horace," "Old Honesty," "Old Honest Horace," "the Honest Old Farmer," "the Old Man," "Old White Coat," "Old White Hat," "Old Tree-chopper," "the Sage of Chappaqua," "the Doctor," and "Our Later Franklin." The opponents of the Cincinnati nominee have taken note of the tendency, and kindly suggest a few more pet names. Mr. Greeley might, they say, be referred as "Old Bail-bonds," and "Old Four Hundred Millions," suggestive of the offer of Mr. Lincoln to buy a peace, and "Old Niagara," or "Old Frontier," or "Old Cataract," commemorative of the peace performance at that famous fall; and "Old Let-em-go," meaning the Southern States in 1860-67, and "Old Away-with-Lincoln," playfully significant of the Greeley proposition to set that President aside in 1864, and "Old Root-hog-or-die," embalming the fraternal advice which Mr. Greeley gave to the freedmen, and "Old Villain-you-lie," epitomizing his direct and sinewy Saxon familiarly addressed to those with whom he differs. Mr. Greeley's well known agricultural proclivities and treatises are commemorated in the aliases, "Old Prize Strawberry," "Old What-do-I-know-about-it," "Old Garden Sass," and with a sly reference to the possibilities of the contest, "Old Beet," while his leanings towards protection are indicated in the endearing epithets, "Old Pig Iron," "Old Protection," "High old Tariff," "Old Bessemer," and "Old Wooden Screws."—Pall Mall Gazette.

A LADY about to be absent from home for a week told her servant to keep her gold fish nice and clean. On the lady's return the fish was dead. "Died in two days, marm." "But what you do to them?" "Please, marm, I took 'em out and wiped 'em clean and next day they died."

BRITISH AND AMERICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, July 18, 1872.

ADMIRAL LEE TO BE RELIEVED.

Admiral Lee, at his own request, has been directed to leave Key West for Hampton Roads on the 15th of August. He will be relieved as commander of the North Atlantic squadron.

THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION.

The mixed commission on British and American claims, which adjourned on the 23d of April, will meet at Newport, R. I., on the 11th of September. During the interval a vast amount of labor has been performed by the Secretary and the respective agents, and the records have already become voluminous. When it is known there are 428 British and 19 American claims, some of which, with the testimony, will make from 500 to 800 pages of printed matter filled with the testimony, some idea of the work of the commission may be formed. The memorial and all the testimony are, under the regulations, required to be printed, the proof read and compared, all involving much care and labor. So rapidly are the cases prepared that 418 of the British memorials and all the American have been printed and in the hands of the respective counsel. The secretary of the commission, Thomas C. Cox, esq., has inaugurated a complete system of business, and the records correspondence, and minor details are as fully atttended to and preserved as in any department of the Government, so that when the labors of the commission shall have been concluded, the immense amount of papers will be arranged, filed and tabulated, and any one of them can be reached with facility.

The testimony taken in the numerous cases has to be gathered from any part of the country, and special agents are designated at different points to obtain and forward it to the Secretary by order of the commission, when it is printed for the use of the commissioners, counsel, &c. What has been truly said of other commissions whose labors have terminated, that they did not keep full records of their proceedings, cannot apply to this, and, therefore, both Governments may congratulate themselves upon the system and celerity with which the business is conducted. The Secretary, Mr. Cox, came to his position with a long experience in the Department of State, and the manner in which he fills his present position shows that the commissioners have been fortunate in securing the services of this capable and courteous gentleman.

IMPORTANT TO DEALERS IN WHISKY AND TOBACCO.

Under the provisions of an amendment to section 43, act of July 20, 1868, passed June 6, 1872, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is authorized to make such change in stamps, and may prescribe such instruments or other means for attaching, protecting and canceling stamps for tobacco, snuff, cigars, distilled spirits and fermented liquors, or either of them, as he and the Secretary of the Treasury shall approve, such instruments to be furnished by the United States to the person using the stamps to be affixed therewith, under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may prescribe.

In order to an intelligent exercise of this power, the Commissioner, in a letter to the Acting Secretary of the Treasury, recommends that a committee of three persons be appointed to examine all appliances or means that may be offered to accomplish the purpose set forth in the extract from the law, and to report on the same after a proper time and hearing has been afforded to parties wishing to present plans or instruments; also, to report the probable number of instruments. And further, to report the probable number of instruments that would be required in each instance.

EDUCATION AND CRIME.

The Commissioner of Education is now engaged in sending out blank forms to all the prisons, jails and penitentiaries in the country, asking for statistical answers to serve as an indication of the relations of crime to education and ignorance. The importance at arriving at accurate results in inquiries of this nature being now generally recognized all of the penal institutions will doubtless heed the request and answer as soon as possible. The heads of the questions are as follows: Number of convicts; nativity; convictions (how often); age when convicted; previous occupation; education of convict; previous habits: nature of crime; social relations; whether married, single, devorced, separated, deserted, orphans or half orphans; education and habits of parents; instruction.

When all the information is received it will be turned over to Mr. Mansfield, "the veteran observer," formerly of the New York Times, who will work them up into an interesting chapter to be published by the Bureau of Education for general information.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

The lowest barometer move slowly eastward over southern New England on Friday, with north-east winds and cloudy weather north of Massachusetts; northerly winds and cool, clearing weather from northern New York to Lake Huron; cool north-west winds and cloudy, followed by clearing, weather from New York to Virginia and Ohio. The conditions are favorable for local rains in Virginia and North Carolina; a rising barometer and pleasant weather prevail in the Gulf States on Friday.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Turf.

SARATOGA, July 18.—The first race—hurdle—of two miles, for five hundred dollars, was won by Lochiel, beating Astronomer, Tammany, and Lobelia. Time 4:00¾.

The second race, for five hundred dollars, three quarter mile, was won by Luna. Time 1:19.

In the third race, equal stakes, there were but two competitors; won easily by Wade Hampton, Sue Ryder a quarter of a mile behind at the finish; time 3:42½.

CLEVELAND, July 18.—The second day's races of the Cleveland club came off to-day. Notwithstanding the heavy rains of last night, the track was put in tolerably good condition, but was rather heavy at first. The attendance was larger than yesterday, and great enthusiasm and interest was manifested throughout.

The horses in the 2:30 race, which was not finished yesterday on account of the darkness, were called at two o'clock. The score for the best three in five stood: Rosaland 2, Red Cloud 1, Sleepy John 1. In the first heat Red Cloud unfairly took Rosaland's position on the first quarter, compelling Rosaland to fall back among the other horses, when she fouled with Phil. Sheridan, smashing her sulky and throwing out the driver. The horses all went round, but the dash was declared no heat. Red Cloud was declared distanced and her driver suspended for thirty days. Rosaland came in ahead in the next heat on 2:29¼, thus winning the heat and race. Time of the race: Rosaland 2:29, 2:26, 2:29¼; Red Cloud 2:28⅛; Sleepy John 2:29¼.

First regular races for horses that never beat 2:30, premium $1,200, $600 and $200; eight horses were entered; five heats were trotted; Ella Wilson, of Rushville, Ind., took the second, fourth and fifth, in 2:30, 2:31, 2:32¼, thus winning the race. The other heats were won by Gentle Annie, of Louisville, Ky., in 2:32¼, 2:32¼. The third money was given to Cartaraugus Chief, of Buffalo.

The second race was for 2:40 horses; premium nine hundred, four hundred and fifty and two hundred dollars—ten entries. The race was won in three straight heats by Ed. Seely, of Chicago, in 2:37, 2:35 and 2:36¾. John Chambers gave him a close victory on the second heat, keeping the lead on the first three quarters, but falling back on the home stretch, and allowing Seely to come under the wire half a length ahead. The second money was given to Delaware Chief, of Titusville, and the third to John Chambers, of Nashville.

For the running race, best three in five, $300, $150 and $50, five horses were entered. The race was closely contested and exciting, six heats being necessary to decide who the winner was. Romance won the fourth, fifth and sixth heats in 1:23, 1:25¼, 1:29.

Three quarter dash; Richard A., of Glenville, Ohio, won the first in 1:25½, Regent second in 1:21½; and Mollie Cad third in 1:21. Regent was distanced in the sixth heat.

To-morrow the great race between Goldsmith Maid, Lucy and American Girl comes off, and promises to show the best time ever made. The track will be in splendid condition and some splendid racing is expected. The other race of the day will be pacing and running. The races regularly appointed for to-day, which were changed on account of the rain on Tuesday, will come off.

BASE BALL.

EVANSVILLE, July 18.—The match game of base ball, between the Lone Star club, of New Orleans, and the River Sides, of this city, resulted in the defeat of the New Orleans boys by a score of twenty to five. The result was very different from what was anticipated. Several of our own citizens bet on the Lone Stars. The score stood:

River Sides	0	2	2	3	3	2	4	0	4	—20
Lone Star	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	— 5

THE STELLAR UNIVERSE.

Great News from the Stars.

THE NEW WONDERS REVEALED BY THE SPECTROSCOPE.

Measuring the Velocity of the Stars.

DRIFTING THROUGH SPACE SEVENTY MILES A SECOND.

At the last meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society, Dr. Huggins, the eminent spectroscopist, made an extraordinary statement respecting the motions taking place among the stars. The results he announces are so wonderful that it will be well briefly to explain how they have been obtained, as well as their relation to what had formerly been known upon the subject. Our readers are doubtless aware that the stars are not fixed, but are known to be travelling quickly through space. To ordinary observation the stars seem unmoving; nor indeed can the astronomers recognize any signs of motion save by prolonged observation. But if the exact place of a star be carefully determined at any time and again many years later, a measurable displacement can be recognized; year after year, century after century, the motion thus determined proceeds, until at length the star may be removed by a considerable arc (or what is so regarded by astronometers accustomed to deal with the minutest displacements) from the position it had formerly occupied. But, in general, these movements afford no means of estimating the real.

RATE AT WHICH THE STARS ARE TRAVELING

through space. In the first place, a star might be moving with enormous rapidity toward or from the earth, and yet seem to be quite fixed on the star-vault—just as the light of a rapidly approaching or receding train seems to occupy an unchanging position if the train's course is at the moment in the direction of the line in sight. It is only what may be called thwart motion of the stars that the astronomer can recognize by noting stellar displacements. But even this motion he cannot estimate—in miles per second, say—unless he knows how far off the sun is; and astronomers know in truth very little about stellar distances. Now it seems at first sight altogether hopeless to measure the rate at which a star is approaching or receding. No change of brightness could be looked for, nor, indeed, could any observed change be trusted as an evidence of changed distance, since stars are liable to real changes of brilliancy, much as our sun is liable to be more or less spot-marked. But,

THE DISTANCES TO THE STARS

are so enormous that no conceivable rate of approach or recession could effect their brilliancy discernably. Only the most rapid thwart-motions yet recognized would carry a star over a space equal to the moon's seeming diameter in 500 years, so that a corresponding motion of recess or approach would only change a star's distance to about the same relative extent, and it is obvious that such a change could not make a star, even in that long period, change appreciably in brightness. It will seem, then, utterly incredible that astronomers have learned not merely whether certain stars are receded or approaching, but have actually been enabled to determine respecting this kind of motion what they can not determine respecting the more obvious thwart-motion, viz: the rate at which the motion takes place. This is rendered possible by what is known of the nature of light. Light, travels through space in waves, not as a direct emanation. Now, let us compare a star's action in emitting such waves with some known kind of wave action, and we shall at once recognize the EFFECTS OF VERY RAPID MOTION ON THE STAR'S PART.

Conceive a fixed paddle wheel turning at a uniform rate in water, and that every blade as it reaches the water raises one wave, that wave being transmitted in a given direction. Then there would be a succession of waves separated from each other by a constant distance. But suppose the paddle wheel itself to be carried in the given direction. It is clear that after one blade has raised its wave, the next blade, descending in the same time as before, will reach the water closer to the preceding wave than if the paddle wheel had been at rest; for the moving wheel will have carried the blade closer, so that now a succession of waves will result as before, but they will have their crests closer together. And obviously, if the wheel were carried in the contrary direction, the wave crests would be further apart than if the wheel had been at rest. Thus reverting to the stars, we infer that if a star is approaching, the light which comes to us from it will have

than if the star were at rest, and vice versa. Now the distance between the wave crests of light signifies a difference of color, the longer waves producing red and orange light; waves of medium length yellow and green lights, and the shorter waves producing blue, indigo, and violet light. So that if a star were shining with pure red light, it might by approaching very rapidly be caused to appear yellow or even blue or indigo, according to the rate of approach; while if a star were shining with pure indigo light, it might by receding very rapidly be caused to appear green or yellow, or even orange or red. But stars do not shine with pure colored light, but with a mixture of all the colors of the rainbow; so that the attempt to estimate a star's rate of approach or recession by its color would fail; even though we knew the star's real color, and even though stars moved fast enough to produce color changes. The spectroscopist has, however, a much more delicate means of dealing with the matter. The rainbow tinted streak forming a star's spectrum is crossed by known dark lines; and these serve as

VERITABLE MILE-MARKS FOR THE SPECTROSCOPIST.

If one of these lines in the spectrum of any star is seen to be shifted toward the red end, the observer knows that the star is receding, and that swiftly; if the shift is toward the violet end, he knows that the star is swifty approaching. Now, Dr. Huggins has been able, nearly four years ago, to apply this method to the case of the bright star Sirius, though his instrumental means were not then sufficient to render him quite certain as to the result. Still he was able to announce with some degree of confidence that Sirius is receding at a rate exceeding twenty miles per second. In order that he might extend the method to other stars, the Royal Society placed at his disposal a fine telescope, fifteen inches in aperture, and specially adapted to gather as much light as possible with that aperture. Suitable spectroscopic appliances were also provided for the delicate work Dr. Huggins was to undertake. It was but last winter that the instrument was ready for work; but already Dr. Huggins has obtained the

MOST WONDERFUL NEWS FROM THE STARS

with its aid. He finds that many of the stars are traveling far more swiftly than had been supposed. Arcturus, for example, is traveling toward us at the rate of some fifty miles per second, and as this thwart motion is fully as great (for this star's distance has been estimated), the actual velocity with which he is speeding through space can not be less than seventy miles per second. Other stars are moving with corresponding velocities. But amid the motions thus detected Dr. Huggins has traced the signs of law. First he can trace a tendency among the stars in one part of the heavens to approach the earth, while the stars in the opposite side of the heavens are receding from us; and the stars which are approaching lie on that side, of the heavens toward which Herschel long since taught us that the sun is traveling. But there are stars not obeying this simple law; and among these Dr. Huggins recognizes instances of that community of motion to which a modern student of the stars has given the name of

STAR DRIFT.

It happens, indeed, that one of the most remarkable of these instances relates to five well known stars, which had been particularly pointed to as forming a drifting set. It had been asserted more than two years ago that certain five stars of the Plough, or Charles' Wain—the stars known to astronomers as Beta, Gamma, Delta, Epsilon and Zeta: of the Great Bear—are drifting bodily through space. The announcement seemed to many very daring, yet its author (trusting in the mathematical analysis of the evidence) expressed unquestioning confidence. He asserted, moreover, that whenever Dr. Huggins applied the new method of research he would find that those five stars are either all approaching or all receding, and at the same rate from the earth. The result has justified his confidence as well in his theory as in Dr. Huggins' mastery of the new method. Those five stars are found to be all receding from the earth at the same rate of about thirty miles per second. This result at once illustrates the interesting nature of Dr. Huggins' discoveries, and affords even more interesting. The theories hitherto accepted respecting the constitution of the stellar universe has been tried among the views recently pronounced, with a result decidedly in favor of the latter. We may feel assured that the matter will not rest here. A simple and decisive piece of evidence, such as that we have described, will invite many to examine afresh the theories respecting the stellar heavens which have so long been received unquestioned. The theory of star drift is associated with others equally novel, and which admit equally well of being put to the test. We venture to predict that before many years have passed, there will be recognized in the star depths a variety of constitution and complexity of arrangements startingly contrasted with the general uniformity of strubture recognized in the teachings at present accepted.

PROMISE OF FUTURE REVELATIONS

Louis Napoleon's Son.

The Imperial Prince goes every morning to King's College School in the Strand. The College is in the hands of the Church party, but is affiliated with the London University. The boys at the school are quite of the middle class. The Prince has a tutor, and one of his schoolfellows was anxious to convince me the other day that this was the reason the young Frenchman was frequently better prepared than the rest. In these large day schools the boys see little of each other out of school hours. When the studies for the day are over, the lads are off to their homes —north, south, east, west; so the young Prince has not any special acquaintances. Probably they will get him into their Cricket Club and initiate him into athletics. In that case some of us who have young friends at the school will soon hear how he acquits himself. No human beings judge more exclusively by merits than schoolboys.

THE STATE.

BERKS.—Monday forenoon as Mr. William Marks was passing through an oats field near Tuckerton, he was attacked by a black snake. Mr. Marks fortunately had a grass scythe on his shoulder at the time, and with one well directed blow severed the head from the body. The snake measured 7 feet 8 inches in length. ——Locusts have made their appearance in this county in large numbers.——The growing corn in Berks is doing well, having been much refreshed by recent rains. The potato crop and garden vegetables generally are in fine condition. ——Charles G. Ruler a confectioner in Reading took a dose of morphine and locked himself in an outhouse. He was discovered in time.—— John Miller a gay and festive youth of Reading borrowed a suit of clothes from one friend and some money from another last week and has not been about since.

BUTLER.—The County Treasurer has been supplied with a new safe.——The fish of the Connoquessing are reported as being poisoned, and are dying from the effects of the residuum flowing from the distilleries into the creek.——Butler boasts that it is growing more rapidly than any town in the State.——On the morning of the 12th inst., the tanks of the Gibson well near Fairview, Butler county, were struck by lightning, and about one thousand barrels of oil lost. A track is now running between Butler and the Fairview oil regions.——There is some dispute among the owners of the Eagle and the matter is in court. Jeff. Burtner, Esq., has been appointed Receiver to take charge of the concern, and S. H. Pearsol, Esq., Master to take testimony.

CAMBRIA.—The Mountain Voice, a new daily paper, has made its appearance in Johnstown, and looks well. It is edited by Mr. James F. Campbell.——Johnstown girls, says the Voice, favor the eight hour movement—from 7 P. M. to 3 A. M.——A new railroad from Johnstown to Somerset is talked of.——The new market-house for Johnstown is rapidly approaching completion.——Rev. F. S. Kittell, son of William Kittell, Esq., of Ebensburg, returned home from Rome last week. He pursued his theological studies and was ordained a priest in the "Eternal City."——The Episcopalians of Johnstown expect to have their proposed new church "roofed in" before winter.

FAYETTE.—A meeting of persons interested in a Monongahela Railroad will be held at Fayette to-night.——The Uniontown Standard comes to us enlarged and much improved in appearance. It it one of our best country exchanges. ——The M. E. Church at Perryopolis will be dedicated Sabbath July 21 Drs. Drs. Hiram Miller and J. C. Pershing of Pittsburgh officiating.——The School Board of Connellsville recently unanimously elected the following teachers for the ensuing year: Mr. S. A. Espey, Principal; Mr. A. S. Cameron, Room No. 4; Miss Mary Canon, Room No. 3; Miss T. R. Jones, Room No. 2; Miss Lizzie J. Cameron, Room No. 1. These persons, with one exception, have had charge of the schools ever since the completion of the new building—three years ago. From our personal acquaintance with them we know no better selections could have been made.——The Standard gives a detailed account of a wretch who attempted an outrage upon a little child on the night of the 5th in Connellsville. The fellow, when arrested, gave his name as Geo. Wilson, of Virginia, and was locked up in the Uniontown jail to prevent his being lynched by the excited Connellsvillians.

ERIE.—The Erie schools cost $64,819.23.—— The soldiers' monument will be completed about September.

INDIANA.—The fines paid into the school fund of Indiana borough for illegal whisky selling are large enough to reduce the school tax 2½ mills this year.——Work on the Blairsville water works is progressing.——The nomination of Greeley receives but little countenance in Indiana county. Democrats and Republicans alike condemn the movement.——The breweries in Indiana did a lively business last month. They sold 1,952 gallons of beer.——On Friday evening last, during the prevalence of a severe storm, a little daughter of Mrs. Susan Smith, aged twelve years, of Chambersville, was struck by lightning. She was standing on the porch attached to the house of James Swan, when struck. Medical aid was summoned and she has recovered, with the exception that her right arm is powerless.——Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton, of Indiana, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage with a silver wedding.

MERCER.—Twelve new storerooms have either been built since the opening of the spring, or are now in course of erection at Sharon.——Sixty-five hundred dollars worth of pools were sold on the Sharon races.

SOMERSET.—Somerset is building up again rapidly.——The cherry crop has been so large in Somerset county that the fruit is a drug on the market.

VENANGO.—The Tidioute Journal has been discontinued as a daily, but will continue as a weekly.

WASHINGTON.—They are trying to start a bank in California.——Hon. George V. Lawrence has been re-elected Chairman of the Republican County Committee.——On Friday last William Turner, of Prosperity, shot a grey owl which measured four feet and a half from tip to tip and twenty-two inches from the end of the bill to the end of the tail. Pretty good size.

ENGAGEMENT BRACELETS.

A Neat Thing in Gold—Labeling the Suitor—The Latest Society Wrinkle.

Not a Wall street corner, with a turn of an eight or quarter per cent. for a day's use of a million, but the invention of a New England jeweler. Engagement bracelets are getting to be the correct thing; with the golden band securely locked upon the fiance's arm, and the key to the bracelet is to be worn as a charm for the gentleman's watch chain. The era of solitaires and clusters is wanting, and the bracelet is to become the pronounced emblem of impending matrimonial obligations. So says Boston Fashion, and Boston is generally considered to be well up to such matters. The fair ones of the Eastern cities favor the new invention as a check to flirtation, if for nothing else. It comes hard upon the peripatetic love-makers, and the operation or the bracelet is at once simple and effective. There is a little flirtation, to begin with—just a fair amount of turtle-doving, and when the young lady's parents have become sufficiently acquainted with the financial prospects of the suitor, or have ascertained the diagnosis of the disease to be sufficiently dangerous to make the withholding of consent a hazardous experiment, the whole thing culminates in the click of the bracelet clasp, the turning of the golden key, and away goes the newly-acknowledged lover with the symbol of his bondage upon his vest chain. It is a nice thing for the ladies, with the advantage on their side of the house in more than one way; but it is inconvenient to the gentlemen who make love to half-a-dozen at once, and can afford to distribute diamonds in several quarters, just for the fun of the engagements, and the privileges they may bring with them. Club members are prone to ask questions; the ladies are proverbially inquisitive, and so they must needs confine their love-vows to their legitimate channels, and within their proper limits, or wear more than one key as a penalty for the indiscretion. As a moral idea, emanating from Boston, it is decidedly a good one, and we cordially endorse the bracelet. If it prevents heart-breaking from flirtation which ends in a disappointment, let the new invention bear the credit of the good—at all events, it is a pretty custom, and as a neat thing in gold, is worthy of encouragement.

GRASSHOPPERS BY THE MILLION.

The Old Bay State Farmers Afflicted with the Insects—The Hungry Hordes Marching to Victory.

The Boston Journal says: "Nearly a week ago swarms of insects, resembling grasshoppers more than anything else, appeared on the territory about Spring and Sixth streets, East Cambrigde, and at once began to breakfast on everything eatable which fell in their way, regardless of all rights of property. They attracted little notice at first, beyond the places visited, where they were received with no favor, the people using staves upon them in an endeavor to stave off their further mischief, and lime to induce them to 'slacken' their progress. But though thousands have fallen by the hand of the destroyer, millions have taken their places, and now acres are covered with the 'hoppers.' Houses are coated with the ugly creatures from attic to cellar at some times of the day, and even the rain troughs at the eaves are filled. Trees are denuded of their verdure, and their gaunt trunks hidden from view by the myriads resting upon them. Gardens have been despoiled in a way almost incredible, and owners are now pulling up their crops rather than satisfy the hungry hordes marching to victory over them. All efforts yet put forth have not seemed to lessen in any perceptible degree the numbers of these outrageous pests. Perhaps the saddest man in Cambridge is a person who purchased for a certain sum the right to cut the hay from marsh land near the spot where the grasshoppers have appeared the thickest. The land in question looks as if a fire had burned over it, not a vestige of green remaining. The insects took a lunch here one morning before taking breakfast from the potato patches further on. The fowls manifested extreme joy at the first appearance of the creatures, but now let them severely alone, having become cloyed with the fresh food. The cats take kindly to them, however, and devour them greedily."

Grand European Excursion.

A monster European excursion party is being organized in Canada and the Eastern States to leave New York on or about the 25th of August, and to return in the middle of February. The excursion will be conducted by experienced and educated cicerones, who are well read in history and speaking all the modern European tongues. It is calculated to cost a large sum. The party will visit London, Paris, through France, the city of Metz, the Rhine, Baden Baden, Strasburg, Basel, through Switzerland, Falls of the Rhine, Lake Constance, Lake Zurich, the Riga, Luzerne, Lausanne, the Lake of Geneva, through the lately completed Mount Cenis tunnel, Turin, Milan, Florence, Rome, Naples, Mount Vesuvius, Herculaneum, Pompeii, the blue Grotto of Capri, thence proceed to Palmero, Messina, Athens, Nauplius, Corinth, Syria, the Dardanelles, Constantinople, Perr, Scutara, Tophana, Smyrna, Cypris, Beyrout, Damascus, through Palestine to Jerusalem, Bethlehem, the garden of Gethsemane, Jericho, the Jordan, Mara Sarah, Rachel's grave, etc., etc., to Port Said, through the Suez Canal, Ismail, Suez, Cairo; from whence excursions will be made to Shubra, Helipolis, Memphis, the Pyramids of Gizeh, the Tombs of Caliphs and other places of interest. Homeward to Alexandria, Brindisi (Italy,) along the coast of the Adriatic to Acona, Venice and Vienna, returning via Paris, London, Liverpool, to New York.

OVER a thousand women are employed in the decorative departments of the Leeds potteries. They work nine hours a day and get 2s, 3d., about 60 cents currency, a week. Beauty of free trade.

"HOME, SWEET HOME."

Something of the Grand Old Song—Its Author and its Origin."

John H. Payne, the author of that touching and immortal song, "Home, Sweet Home," was not only poor in pocket, but a homeless wanderer. In conversation with a friend, he once gave expression to the following recital:

"How often," said he, "have I been in the heart of Paris, Berlin, and London, or some other city, and heard persons playing "Sweet Home," without a shilling to buy the next meal, or a place to lay my head. The world has literally sung my song until every heart is familiar with its melody. Yet I have been a poor wanderer from my boyhood. My country has ruthlessly turned me from office, and in my old age I have to submit to humiliation for my daily bread."

He had the most exact and beautiful expression of the heart's emotion regarding home, and yet personally he was a stranger to all its tender, loving influences. A wanderer, and sometimes a vagabond, he has moved the human heart to its very depths by his exquisite lines.

Disgusted with his treatment in his own country, and still impelled by his disposition to roam, his only wish was to die in a foreign land, and to be buried by strangers, and sleep in obscurity. He obtained an appointment as United States Consul at Tunis, where he died.

We now turn to a period antecedent to the composition of his song. At times he was greatly depressed, and seemed to feel most acutely his utter loneliness. One day a friend called to see him, and on entering said:

"How are you to-day, Payne?"

"Down-hearted enough; but last night I had one of the most glorious visions in a dream that ever met mortal eye."

"Ah, indeed; what was it?"

"Well, I will tell you. I suppose you think it a scene of vast wealth, of a palace, or something else of that kind that man's desires are set upon. It was nothing of the kind. I don't often have dreams, but when I do they impress me greatly. In this dream I was in a home of most transcendent rural beauty. It was all that poet and painter could imagine. The landscape was composed of gentle rolling hills, and sweet, still valleys, with meandering streams. There were flowers and birds, crops, flocks and herds. In the midst of this stood various habitations of men, women and children, and I heard pleasant voices, laughter, music and song."

"Truly, a beautiful picture of human contentment," said the friend.

"The life long imagery of my brain," cried the poet, "of home, sweet home. Ah, how my soul reveled in the picture! But gradually it faded from my sight. I was transfixed. I strained my eyes to catch its outlines as they grew fainter and fainter; but at last it had faded. I then looked up, and saw a dark cloud gathering, which grew dark and terrible.

"Ah," said I, "that cloud is significant of my own lot."

As I said these words, I saw traced upon it in burning letters—these words of the Almighty to another miserable man:

"A fugitive and vagabond shalt thou be on earth."

"In terror I recognized my doom, and awoke to find it both a dream and a sad realty."

The unhappy man buried his face in his hands, and for some time he seemed to be in the deepest misery.

"A very wonderful dream," said his companion.

"Well, do you know what I am going to do?" said Payne, looking up. "I'll tell you. I've been thinking a great deal over the matter, and I intend to write a song called "Home, Sweet Home." The picture of my dream shall be my inspiration for the task, and my lonely heart will give a touching pathos to my words."

Not long after, the song of "Home, Sweet Home" was given to the world by John Howard Payne. The dream is more specially recalled by the closing verse:

An exile from home, pleasure dazzles in vain:
Ah, give me my lowly, thatched cottage again;
The birds singing sweetly, that came at my call—
Give me then that peace of mind, dearer than all,
Home, sweet Home
There's no place like home.

LONGFELLOW AND BASSETT.

Their Race at Saratoga—The Kentucky Horse Beaten—How it Was Done.

As the horses passed the scrawl Bassett led, with Longfellow next and Defender last. They dashed off at a killing pace, literally running quarter races from the jump. As they passed the stand and entered the first mile Bassett led Longfellow one length with Defender four or five lengths behind and out of the race. On they dashed to the quarter pole, both horses making the pace terrific, and Longfellow gradually drawing up to Bassett's rump. To the half mile there was little difference to their positions. As they went down to the three-quarter pole Longfellow appeared to be at Bassett's saddle flap. They entered the home stretch neck and neck. Down they came with tremendous strides, but gathering with all the ease of quarter horses. At this moment the excitement was beyond all bounds. Every person looked for the tactics which had proved so successful at Long Branch. They thought to see Longfellow given his head and that he would pass Bassett like an arrow, but both horses already had their heads and were straining every nerve in the herculean contest. Bassett made an effort to shake off his troublesome companion and drew away from him perhaps half a head as they passed the stand. The spirits of Bassett's friends now began to rally. The sorrel was clearing space like a bird, and looked as though he might continue at the same pace for a long distance yet. Longfellow's friends were confident. They saw nothing to dampen their enthusiasm. The brown was forcing the running beautifully; he had only to keep it up and make his burst in the last hundred yards. As they rounded the turn it was difficult to determine whether there was any change. They went to the half mile, and from thence to the three-quarter pole at the same killing pace, making the unprecedented time of 3:30. The pace was telling on the horses, but both gathered for a last effort. Bassett, by a terrific burst, drew away from his antagonist three-quarters of a length, and came down the home and under the string a winner of the dash by a length in 3:59, amid the most intense excitement and the most immense applause that ever greeted a race horse.

Longfellow pulled up lame, and many thought he had broken down, the majority thinking that he had given way coming into the home stretch on the last quarter of the last mile. The opinion was erroneous. He turned one of his plates and was badly cut in the leg, which occasioned his lameness.

No such race has ever before been run in America. If Basset is the greatest horse in the country, then Longfellow is the next best. For perfect gameness the dash has never been surpassed on the turf. The first two miles were made in four seconds and a-quarter faster time than any horse has ever succeeded in making in the United States, and several seconds faster than the fastest recorded time in England. The time of the dash is two seconds and a-half faster than the time made by Kentucky several years ago for the Saratoga cup, and which has always stood as the greatest time on record until to-day.

AFRICAN DIAMOND FIELDS.

A Chicago Adventurer in Luck—Buys a claim for $175 and finds a $1500 diamond—Prices in the "diggins"

With much satisfaction, says a correspondent of the Chicago Journal, we are passing the Sabbath in a tent of our own, encumbered with none of the luxuries of civilized life, and feeling entirely at home. We are not only "house-keeping," but are running an establishment sufficiently large to accommodate a few friends who have not yet aspired to the proprietorship of a canvas mansion. We bought our claim in the diamond fields two weeks ago. It is fifteen or twenty feet in size and previous to our purchase had been worked to the depth of twenty feet. Its owner had picked and shoveled away for six months, without paying his expenses, and was glad to be rid of it for $175. His ill success was poorly calculated to excite expectations of sudden wealth on our part, or even hopes of a slim living. Nevertheless, as we had come to dig and "take our chances" we opened the ball cheerfully, and were rewarded for three days of toil with nothing at all. On the fourth day we unearthed a forty-five carat, colored diamond, of very good shape and size. It proved the largest found in this vicinity for a long time. Everybody became excited. A hundred traders and merchants flocked to the scene, all anxious to inspect our trophy. At present prices it would sell for about $1,500, but when the diggings were opened here eighteen months ago, we are told it would have readily sold for $40,000. Think what a loss we have sustained by not coming sooner! One merchant said it could be cut so as to command $10,000. We intend to keep it, however, and when we get back will wear it "turn about." On the following day we found a very pretty, well-shaped, eight carat diamond, and at once became notorius throughout the diggings as "the lucky Yankee." But we have since worked a whole week, and have found nothing. Few of those around us are paying their way. In addition to working hard ourselves, we employ two Kaffirs, paying them ten shillings a week, and furnish them with meals every day and with meat twice a week. Everything is exceedingly costly here. Lumber is two hundred and fifty dollars a thousand; flour, about fifteen cents a pound; onions and potatoes, ten cents a pound, and wood twenty dollars a cord. Nothing is cheap but diamonds.

The New Rush claims are far richer than these, and only the failure to receive a letter of credit at the proper time prevented our purchasing one of them. Some of them are worth as high as $50,000 each. Still we are quite contented where we are, and in view of what we have already accomplished, can well afford to "peg away" for six months to come without making another dollar.

We are now having just such weather as you experience in Illinois in November, this being the winter of the far Southern latitudes. The mails are uncertain, and we seem cut off from the world. Nothing would gladden our eyes so much as the sight of a Chicago newspaper.

THE Guardian says a curious note might be written on the great age often attained by literary men. A prominent example is to be found in Mr. Finley, well-known for his Byzantine history, who, although upwards of eighty, is still Times correspondent at Athens. Mr. Carlyle, Sir Charles Lyell, Mr. Darwin, the late Sir Roderick Murchison, and very many other names occur to assist in proving that the mind does not often wear itself out if it is kept in constant use. Mr. Conway, writing from Paris, makes like note of French authors: Nichelet, who has just published his thirtieth historical work, "History of the Nineteenth Century," is seventy-four. Guizot, at the age of seventy-five, is publishing the history of France, in monthly parts. Another busy historian, Mignet, is seventy-six. Victor Hugo is in his seventy-first year.

THE POWER OF INTEREST.

How a Man May Become Rich on Small Beginnings.

The gradually increasing rate of interest should make people wary of borrowing money for speculative purposes, and especially of hiring it for the purchase of unproductive property, or in the expectation of obtaining permanently high rents. It is the high rate of interest which every few years causes a general breaking up of business, when property and products fall in prices. This also it is which causes wealth gradually but steadily to concentrate into the hands of comparatively few persons in the community. Take any series of ten, twenty, or thirty years, or more, and the longer the series the more positive and conclusive becomes the evidence of the fact, and it will be seen that the most profitable business in the world is the lending of money. The high rate of money, high rents, and high taxes, must, in the course of few years, tend to such a concentration of wealth as cannot fail to be injurious to society, and will ultimately so straiten the debtor classes as to the necessitate to a very great extent the process of wiping out old accounts and beginning anew. A few examples will be sufficient to illustrate the great power of interest:

A man buys a house for which he pays $10,000. He leases it and charges the tenant seven per cent. upon its cost, clear of insurance, taxes and repairs. The rent is payable quarterly. A rate of interest of seven per cent per annum, paid quarterly, will accumulate a sum equal to the principal loaned or invested in property in ten years. In the first period of ten years, therefore, his rents build him another as costly a house as the first. In twenty years his rents build three such houses; in thirty years seven houses; in forty years fifteen houses; in fifty years thirty-one houses; in sixty years sixty-three houses, and in seventy years one hundred and twenty-seven houses. In seventy years all these are built from the accumulated rents of one house. These houses are worth $1,270,000, which sum has been paid for seventy years' rents of one house worth $10,000. If, instead of being invested in the house and lot, the $10,000 were loaned on interest at seven per cent., and the interest collected and reloaned quarterly, the money would accumulate precisely the same amount as the property.

Take another illustration of the power of interest. Two mechanics just come of age, are good to earn a dollar a day over and above his expenses. Every six months they invest the money thus earned at seven per cent. interest, the interest payable half yearly. These men earn an average of a dollar a day besides their expenses 300 days in each year, during forty years and four months. Their age is then 61 years and 4 months. Each earns by labor $300 for 40 years, or, for the whole period, $12,120—together with $24,200. But the interest on their returns, loaned half yearly, for a period of 40 years and four months amounts to $104,550 70, which, added to the amount of $24,200 earned by their labor, makes the aggregate, $128,159 70. The interest on the sum $24,200 earned by their labor is, 104,550 70—more than four and a quarter times greater than the amount they have earned by their labor.

Suppose the two men to live twenty years and two months longer, that is the age of eighty-one years and six months, and continue to loan their money. During this period it will double twice, making the total accumulation in sixty years and six months $515,002 80. The two men do not work during the last twenty years and two months, and expend of the income for living during that period $15,002 80, leaving to their heirs $500,000. In forty years and four months they earn by their labor $24,200, and live twenty years on their money without labor. Subtract the money earned by labor, $24,200, and the remainder accumulated by interest is $475,800. Now not one dollar of this $475,800 is earned by the labor of these men. It is the legal interest on $24,200. These men live laboriously and work for a moderate compensation. They take only the legal rate of interest. Neither do they enter into any speculations.

A SARATOGA correspondent says: We may as well mention in conclusion two items of current interest. One is that Commodore Vanderbilt has found a new love—not a lady-love this time, nor even a horse, but a Methodist clergyman. He is constantly accompanied by Dr. Deems, of the Church of the Strangers, and it is even rumored that the tough old Commodore has experienced a change of heart, and is about to join the Methodists. At any rate, he and the Rev. Doctor are inseparable, and drive and ride together and are as brothers.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114⅜@114⅝.

THE failure of the New York Standard, J. Russell Young's enterprise in the journalistic world, is a fresh illustration of the great difficulty encountered in building up a new daily paper. It was well conducted and ably edited, but the expenses ran ahead of the receipts, and the capital gave out, and failure followed. During the past few years the ground has been strewn with the wrecks and ruins of new papers, and yet they are being started daily and in great numbers.

THERE is good prospect for a coal boat rise in our rivers during the present week, which, if it comes, will be rather an unexpected event to our coal dealers, but one for which they are amply prepared to take the advantage. If any large quantity happens to get floated out this season, it will find a cheap market in the lower ports, and now would be a good time for our friends in Cincinnati to lay in a supply for next winter, and then they can have no good cause for grumbling about the extortion of "coal kings" when there is a scarcity of black diamonds in their market.

WE RESPECTFULLY ask our Republican friends in the several States where the Daily and Weekly GAZETTE are circulated, to use some effort to increase the number of our readers during the campaign in their neighborhoods. We are prepared to supply our campaign edition at prices which put it within the reach of even the poorest, and we are making and shall continue to do so, to the best of our ability and the encourgement received, the largest and best weekly paper in Pennsylvania, as well as the very cheapest. Already we have been favored with a large number of campaign subscribers, and feel quite confident that, if our friends would exert themselves but a little, that the list would be largely increased, and thus our ability to work good in the campaign of 1872 will be greatly enlarged.

PHILADELPHIA makes better provision in the way of cheap and comfortable dwelling houses, for persons of moderate means, mechanics, clerks, etc., than any city in the United States, and we doubt not in the world. This course has become the settled policy of its capitalists and large owners of real estate, and the investments return not only fair interest, but in an indirect way promote the growth and advance the prosperity of the city, especially as a great manufacturing center. Capital in this indirect way receives a greater return than the mere rental of the buildings. We are cognizant of the fact that large manufacturing enterprises have been attracted to Philadelphia from this part of the State, and from New England and New York, because of the abundance of comfortable tenant houses and low rents, which is justly esteemed as important a point as high wages by the best class of mechanics. The building statistics for the past six months of the present year show that the number of building permits issued in Philadelphia amount to 3,466, and of this number 2,545 were for dwelling houses. The dwelling houses are classified as follows, and this will afford another example of the proportion of the houses that are for the accommodation of working people and those of moderate means: Two-storied dwellings, 1,290; three-storied dwellings 1,218; four-storied dwellings, 37. The dwellings erected in the city in 1871 was 3,827; add to these the total for the first six months of 1872, and we have for the last eighteen months 5,372, sufficient to accommodate a population of between thirty and forty thousand persons.

IT IS AN old assertion that a man changes once every seven years, that in such time he loses his identity, and comes forth an entirely new individual. The truth of this saying is strikingly developed in Horace Greeley, whose natural vivacity of character urges him forward at more rapid speed than other ordinary men, and causes him to change more frequently from himself into another and entirely different being. Let us cite what he thought, wrote and published when he was a Republican, about those now clinging to his apron strings. How can they now read these words and toss their caps in enthusiasm over the author of them to whose coat they have been so willingly pinned? He said:

"We hold traitors responsible for the work upon which they have precipitated us, and we warn them that they must abide the full penalty. The rebels of that State (Virginia) and Maryland may not flatter themselves that they can enter upon a war against the Government and afterwards return to quiet and peaceful homes. They choose to play the part of traitors, and they must suffer the penalty. The worn-out race of emasculated first families must give place to a sturdier people, whose pioneers are now on their way to Washington at this moment, in regiments. An allotment of land in Virginia would be a fitting reward to the brake fellows who have gone to fight their country's battles."

And then, also, of the Southern gentlemen he entertained at Chappaqua, a few days ago:

"When the rebellious traitors are overwhelmed in the field, and scattered like leaves before an angry wind, it must not be to return to peaceful and contented homes. They must find poverty at their firesides, and see privation in the anxious eyes of mothers and the rags of children."

The old man did not think then of inviting upon them the additional affliction of their making himself a candidate for the Presidency.

GRATZ BROWN, from an overdose of cherries, soft shell crabs, or New England rum—the cause is variously stated—was led into a very indiscreet speech before the Alumni of Yale College, and this was followed by an attack of cholera morbus, or something else. His speech at the college meeting is characterized by one of the New England papers as "words without thoughts—an outbreak of that petulant and overweaning vanity which is his most prominent characteristic." Even the Greeley papers ridicule his criticism of "old Yale," which, it may be added, called forth a prompt and severe rebuke from the President of the College. The Hartford Courant gives Mr. Brown a savage blow in the following elegant manner:

"It may be true that the education in vogue in the great West is very much in advance of that obtained in New England colleges, and in advance of the teaching at Yale especially, but it was hardly courteous for Mr. Brown to say so to the President and faculty of Yale upon a social and complimentary occasion. It would have been better, as well as more convincing, to let his own superior culture exhibit itself in some wise speech or grace of oratory or height of good breeding. No doubt that St. Louis is the home of the choicest learning and the ripest culture and the best morals and the very flower of a scholarly civilization. Yet we cannot imagine Mr. Charles Francis Adams, upon whom Yale bestowed his LL. D., if he had been present at the dinner on Thursday, improving the occasion to make a disparging contrast of the culture and educational facilities of Yale with those of Harvard. And yet Mr. Adams is a ripe scholar and a gentleman of the best culture, and also of the most practical good sense, and trained in a knowledge of the world and of men, though he had not the early advantages of the public school system of the West, nor of the 'great advances of education' in the Mississippi Valley."

SUCCESS IN OCTOBER.

The Philadelphia North American wisely uges the importance of a Republican victory in Pennsylvania in October, and calls for vigorous work so that General Hartranft may come out of the contest with a rousing majority; one that will ultimately decide the Presidential election in November, not only in this State but in the Union. In calling for thorough preparation and hearty labor to secure the State election, the North American claims with truth that it derogates nothing from the zeal that should be bestowed upon the national contest. The election of Hartranft in October carries the State for Grant in November, utterly regardless of any combinations that may be achieved. And, spreading from our State lines, it will encourage the Republicans in other States like a reinforcement. The time to work is not long. Both of the oppositions, so curiously fraternizing at Baltimore, are bound under a compact that aid for Buckalew in October shall be repaid by help for Greeley in November. Principles, facts, hopes and needs were never more strongly with the Republican party than to-day, and if the work that may be is well done between this and October, our banners will be more brightly blazoned than ever. The one supreme need is judicious, rational and persistent work.

IN PEACE AND WAR.

GRANT IN PEACE: "This is a Republic where the will of the people is the law of the land."—Grant's letter to President Johnson, August, 1867. "I shall have no policy of my own to interfere against the will of the people."—Grant's letter, May 30, 1868. "Human liberty is the only true foundation of human Government."—Grant's letter to the citizens of Memphis. "Let us have peace."—Grant's letter, May 29, 1868.

GRANT IN WAR: "No terms except unconditional and immediate surrender can be accepted. I propose to move immediately on your works."—To Gen. Buckner, at Fort Donaldson, February 16, 1862. "The effusion of blood you propose stopping by this course can be ended at any time you may choose by an unconditional surrender of the city and garrison."—To Gen. Pemberton, at Vicksburg, July 3, 1863. "We have now ended the sixth day of very heavy fighting. The result to this time is very much in our favor. Our losses have been heavy as well as those of our enemy. I think the loss of the enemy must be greater. We have taken over 5,000 prisoners in the battle, whilst he has taken from us very few, except stragglers. I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."—To Secretary Stanton, from before Spottsylvania, May 11, 1864. "I care nothing for promotion, so long as our arms are successful."—Grant to Sherman, February, 1862. "If my course is not satisfactory, remove me at once. I do not wish to impede the success of our arms."—Grant to Halleck, February 6, 1863. "No theory of my own will ever stand in the way of my executing in good faith any order I may receive from those in authority over me."—Grant to Secretary Chase, May 29, 1863.

WORK!

The Post makes much merriment over the accession to the ranks of the mongrel party of worn-out Democrats and disappointed Republicans of some obscure person who has hitherto played the role of Republican. We venture the assertion, without fear of successful contradiction, that we can name two good Democrats who will not vote for Greeley to every one influential or partizan Republican our good-natured cotemporary can name who will support him. Talk is cheap. The Post seems to appreciate the fact. Already clubs are being organized in the Republican ranks all through the country, and the same enthusiastic spirit of 1868, which triumphantly carried Grant into the Presidential chair, is manifested. We have no fears for the result. The outlook is particularly good. We are in the sunshine. The clouds frown upon the other camp. It would be sheer folly, however, to ignore, or set aside the fact that in the present happy presentation of the political situation, that work—earnest, hearty, hard and determined work—is needed to bring about such a verdict from the people as we want. No district, be it ever so small or destitute of voters, is without its weight when the final count is to be made. In this good year of our Lord, 1872, we want to count "big" in the majority for our ticket. We can do it if only the necessary amount of earnest brain labor and hard-work be discriminately executed. The whole nation looks to the Keystone State to discharge her full duty both in October and November. We cannot afford to disappoint our outside confiding friends. We must take the lead since it has been awarded us. Work must be the watch-word of the campaign. To secure success it must be done. A spirit of over-confidence or of apathy, is dangerous. Throw a little life and spirit into the campaign, and all will be well. The opposition is by no means strong. It is as weak as water. Yet the wise general in the field of battle never calculates on the weakness of his foes. He would rather be caught guilty of exaggerating their strength than deprecating it. His first duty is to offer good strong fight. To hurl his strongest artillery, his heaviest canonades against them. To permit no straggling his next. He must use all the forces at his command. If victory be easily obtained, all the more glory to himself and his army; if defeat comes he knows he has done his full duty and reflects not upon his own conduct. So, exactly with the Republican party. Each member is, to more or less extent, a leader. Let him discharge his duty well and faithfully and triumph awaits him. Organization is needed. If effectually accomplished the success of our whole ticket is a foregone conclusion. No ward, township, borough or district has a good excuse at this late day to be destitute of a Grant and Wilson club. All know the die is cast. Either Greeley or Grant will be the next occupant of the White House. With, earnest determined work the people will most enthusiastically pronounce in favor of the re-election of the latter and thus proclaim their admiration for the most successful administration ever known in our country's history.

NORTH CAROLINA CANVASS.

The political campaign in North Carolina is progressing with an earnestness unparalleled in that State, noted for its heated political contests in anti-war times. Meetings are held every day by both parties in all of the counties, and some of the strongest speakers of the Union are on the stump. A special to the New York Times from Raleigh, of Tuesday last, says the Republicans claim the State by from 5,000 to 6,000, while the Democrats among themselves only insist that the thing is extremely close and the result doubtful. In view of possible defeat the Greeleyites are beginning to claim he is not involved in the canvass.

The Democrats have made great use of a letter addressed by Congressman Beck, of Kentucky, to General Clingman, declaring that the U. S. Marshal for the State had drawn immense sums of money from the Federal treasusy, and was using it to corruptly influence the election. The Congressman professed to have made a personal examination of the books of the Treasury Department and vouched for his statement. The Marshal, Mr. Carrow, has replied in a letter effectually disposing of Beck's allegations. From this letter it appears Carrow has drawn from the United States Treasury during the last fifteen months $214,274, all of which, except $66,367, was drawn in 1871. In the same fifteen months Carrow has paid on account of the expenses of the Federal Courts in North Carolina $225,819 for Spring Term, Fall and Special Terms, 1871, and Spring Term, 1872. Every dollar drawn has been certified by Hon. Geo. W. Brooks, United States Judge for North Carolina, whose official conduct has never been questioned. The large expenses of the court are due to largely increased business, caused by the prosecution of the Ku-klux and the perpetrators of frauds upon internal revenue. In these cases, besides prisoners, thousands of witnesses have been transported to the place where the court was held, and subsisted there by the Government, a large proportion of them being in the interest of prisoners. Marshal Carrow says Beck knew of all these facts when he charged that money had been drawn from the United States Treasury to be used for election purposes.

The Democratic canvassers generally make centralization their main point. Mr. Doolittle at Raleigh on Tuesday, however, varied this by appeals to the negroes. He declared it would make no difference in the result, for Greeley was sure to be elected, which way the blacks voted; but he warned them that it would not be wise for them to vote en masse against the whites; for if they divided their vote equally between the parties it would make both interested in maintaining their right to suffrage. To the whites Doolittle said it was every Southern man's duty to support Greeley because the great peace-maker had lost fifty thousand dollars by going Jeff Davis' bail!

Secretary Boutwell spoke for the Republican party at Raleigh, on Wednesday, and the telegraph yesterday morning gave our readers a fair abstract of his argument. It was mainly devoted to the financial management of the administration, and was garnished with some well-timed hits at the crude theories of Greeley in finances, demonstrating that their enforcement by the Government would end in disasters and commercial ruin, such as the country has not witnessed since 1837. This speech was not made for North Carolina alone, but for the whole country, and will be accepted everywhere as an authoritative and candid exposition of the financial policy of General Grant's administration.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE Jeffersonian Democrat, a handsome quarto weekly printed at Louisville, is the organ of the straight-out Democracy who are to meet in National Convention in Kentucky on the third of September, and nominate candidates in opposition to Greeley and Brown. The Democrat says "the movement means an organization of Jeffersonian Democrats and Free-Traders upon a scientifically defined creed of Democratic Republicanism, and the nomination of a Presidential ticket, composed of representative Democrats, such as Charles O'Conor, of New York, and Charles Reemelin, of Ohio."

THE New York Independent presents the question of the hour briefly and forcibly in this interrogatory it puts to Republicans:

"Do they desire the restoration of the Democratic party to power? They know the party. They know its history before the war, during that eventful struggle, and also since its close. They know that it was the friend of slavery. They know that it opposed all the measures of the Government for the suppression of the Rebellion. They know that it denounced and resisted the reconstruction processes of Congress, including the three amendments that were placed in the fundamental law of the land by Republican efforts. They know that this party, while professing to accept these amendments as 'accomplished facts,' is to-day utterly opposed to any legislation which seeks to give them practical effect. They know that Democracy in the National Convention of 1868 formally endorsed the Pendletonian swindle of paying the bonded debt of the Government with greenbacks. They know that the Ku-Klux Klans of the South are Democratic organizations. Republicans know these things, and many others that we might mention; and Horace Greeley knows them, unless his memory has failed him. We repeat the question: Do Republicans desire the restoration of the Democratic party to power? If so, then let them vote for Greeley in sufficient numbers, and they will gain their end. If not so, let them vote for General Grant, and they will keep the administration of the Government in patriotic hands. Democracy, having nominated Mr. Greeley, and constituting nine-tenths of his popular support, if its elects him, will control him. This may be set down as certain. The use to which it proposes to put him during the canvass is simply that of a stool-pigeon to entrap Republican voters; and, if the plan succeeds, then it will have other uses for him as a Democratic President."

SENATOR SCHURZ, last fall, made a telling speech in Nashville, Tennessee, which at the time created considerable sensation. Among other things, he said: "A victory by the Democracy would be an encouragement to reactionary endeavors, and for that reason I would look upon a Democratic victory as a great misfortune." The idea that an old and powerful party of such well-defined characteristics as the Democratic organizatian could be transformed in a single night is more than childish.

HON. AARON F. PERRY, of Cincinnati, has resigned his seat as a member of Congress from the first district, and also declined a renomination.

HENRY WARD BEECHER says he don't fight Greeley in this campaign, and would have gladly supported him had he been nominated by the Republicans. We quote from a late article in the Christian Union by Beecher:

"We don't fight Greeley. But we do contend against breaking up the Republican party, and putting the Government into the hands of the Democratic party. * * * We deem the Republican party to be the sounder, safer, more earnest for the great ends of public good, than any nascent party made up by the most extraordinary coalition known to political history of men who have spent their lives in mortal conflicts with each other, and who now have come together, not by any mutual affinities, but by the attraction of common hatreds. 'Anything to beat Grant.'"

GEN. HORACE PORTER, a Long Branch dispatch says, has received letters from leading Democrats, no mere political soldiers of fortune, but Democrats of great standing and life-long reputation, who have annnounced their intention of taking the stump for Grant against Greeley.

IN discussing the State canvass in Massachusetts, the Springfield Republican says the choice of a candidate for Governor on the Greeley side begins to be agitated. Some of the Democrats want to nominate Charles Francis Adams (the father); others talk of Charles Sumner; others of F. W. Bird and of General Bartlett. There is little prospect of nominating either Sumner or Adams; but C. F. Adams, Jr., may possibly be the candidate.

FORGET my record, says Horace Greeley. Forget our record, says the Democratic party. Thus the two—each ashamed of the other, calling loudly upon the rocks and hills to bury out of sight that alone by which the people can judge them—join hands to obtain control of the Government.—Cincinnati Gazette.

BOLTING Democratic journals are multiplying. The two most influential of the four Democratic papers in Suffolk county, New York, refuse to support Greeley and Brown. The Terre Haute (Ind.) Journal and the Seymour Democrat, leading journals in Indiana, are against Greeley. The Savannah (Georgia) News, of the same party, says that Grant will beat Greeley 20,000 in that State.

A GREAT deal of intrigue is afloat already in New York with reference to the next Mayorality. There are no fewer than four candidates in the field, backed by as many distinct factions, and before election day comes along the number will probably be increased. The so called Council of Political Reform are pushing ex-Mayor Tieman, the Committee of Seventy Comptroller Green, while the Tammany organization have taken up County Clerk Loew, and the Apollo Hall Reformers ex-Sheriff O'Brien. The election takes place the same day as the Presidential election.

A DANGEROUS MAN.

BY CORPORAL BUMP.

Mr. Sumner says Grant is a bold, bad, dangerous man.—Newspaper.

"A bold, bad man is Gen. Grant,"
Said Floyd one gloomy night,
As out from Donelson he crept
And took his hasty flight.
From Pillow's trembling lips there came
An echo sounding much the same,
And Buckner thought his chief was right,
No longer durst maintain the fight;
And then came down the rebel "bars,"
And from the fort hung stripes and stars,
"That Grant's a dangerous man," said they,
And doubtless think the same to-day.

"A bold, bad man is Gen. Grant,"
Said Beauregard one morn,
As from the haughty traitor's brow
The victor's wreath was torn;
And from the field his legions went
By orders Gen. Grant had sent.
Then Shiloh's field was ours again,
Despite the host of rebel men
Who came an army boasting loud,
But went a panic-stricken crowd;
For Beauregard and all his men
Perhaps thought Grant was dangerous then.

"A bold, bad man is Gen. Grant,"
Said Pemberton one day:
"Entreaties are of no avail,
He will not go away.
A stubborn, mulish, dangerous man!
He wants our rebel hides to tan."
And still Grant's cannon raked the town,
Until the rebel flags came down;
And then our banners rent and torn
Were through the streets of Vicksburg borne,
The "bold, bad man," that glorious "Fourth,"
Sent gladsome tidings to the North.

"A bold, bad man is Gen. Grant,"
And poor Bragg's eyes were dim
With tears; said he, "I know
'Tis useless fighting him."
And soon the cheers from Grant's brave men
On Lookout's crest told where and when
The rebel General had to run,
And what that "bold, bad man" had done.
"That Grant's a dangerous man!"
As from the field his army fled.

"A bold, bad man is Gen. Grant,"
Said Lee. "That's plain to see;
He must be very bold, indeed,
To think of whipping me."
Then Petersburg and Richmond fell;
Then Appomattox—may be—well,
At last our hero's work was done;
The final victory was won.
Perhaps the people may forget
These things, but then, they haven't yet.
They needed, then, such "dangerous" men,
And think, perhaps, they may again.

"A bold, bad, dangerous man is Grant;"
Jeff. Davis thought the same,
When running off in crinoline,
He to the "last ditch" came.
A Ku-Klux's gentle voice is heard,
And—"Grant is dangerous" is averred.
It needs must be that this is so,
For all these rebels ought to know.
Then Hall and Tweed—good honest men—
Say "Grant is bold and bad," and when such men declare it, then, forsooth,
Folks know that Sumner tells the truth."

ELK GROVE, WIS., May, 1872.

—Galena Gazette.

STATE POLITICS.

THE Pottsville Standard, a strong Democratic paper, refuses to support Greeley and Brown.

A GREELEY ratification meeting was held in Pittston on last Thursday evening. It was large for such demonstrations, six persons being present.

HON. GLENNI W. SCOFIELD, of Warren, and Col. C. B. Curtis, of Erie, have received and accepted invitations from the Republican State Central Committee to stump the State.

THE colored citizens of Harrisburg have organized a Union Republican Central Club. Its members unanimously pledge themselves to support Grant, Wilson, Hartranft, and the whole ticket.

THE real contest in Pennsylvania is not between Grant and Greeley, but between Hartranft and Buckalew in October. If the Republican State ticket is carried, Grant's triumph in Pennsylvania is sure.

GREELEY and Buckalew head the new rebel army in this State. Grant and Hartranft are the defenders of the old flag under which they fought and triumphed during the war. Voters of Pennsylvania, choose ye between them.

THE Reading Times says: Some of our Democrats would like to know whether Buckalew will withdraw. He was nominated by the Democratic party, but that party having sold out to the Liberals, he is now the standard-bearer of nobody.

THE Allentown Chronicle says there are two hundred and thirty-seven Democrats in that city who will not vote for Greeley. The old Democratic party is dead and they do not intend to vote for an "expediency" at the risk of bursting up the country.

ON Saturday night the Republicans of Pottstown and adjoining districts opened the campaign by a grand mass meeting for the Republican ticket. The meeting was addressed by H. Willis Bland, Esq., and Prof. Chester N. Farr, of Pottsville, and other speakers from Norristown.

THE Greeleyites organized a club at Williamsport the other day, and telegraphed to the Philadelphia papers that they had a large meeting, upon learning which the Gazette of that city says: "If twenty-five or thirty constitute a large meeting, fifty must be an overwhelming demonstration."

THE Reading Dispatch says that the evidence of growing dissatisfaction in the ranks of the Democratic party over Greeley's nomination are constantly accumulating. In Berks county we have reliable evidence that nowhere near the strength of the party can be brought to his support. From other counties we are every day learning new facts to the same effect.

German Habits.

In Germany poor men, instead of straining every nerve to live in an ostentatious manner, strive to suit their expenses to their means. There is none of that reckless extravagance in house-furnishing or in dress, and in all externals, as in America. A young married couple suit the number of their rooms, and the number of flights they are high, to their means, and no one thinks of cutting their acquaintance because their snug little sitting room serves as reception room, dining room and parlor. A birthday occasion is one of the pleasantest of events to witness in a German family. Days before, the brothers and sisters bring together their accumulated pennies, and each invests the amount of the same in some love token, however trifling. If the morning is pleasant a table is spread in the garden, and on it are placed the gifts—practical ones from their parents; some simple delicacy pleasant to the juvenile palate is added to the usual meal; flower offerings are sent, and relatives come to present their congratulations. But their is no lavish expenditure, nor costly offerings which the donor can ill afford, and secretly grudges, as is often the case with us; they give within their means, and so give gladly.

For Boys.

It is not necessary that a boy who learns a trade is compelled to follow it all his life. Governor Palmer, of Illinois, was a country blacksmith once, and began his political career as a constable in Maccoupin county. A circuit judge in the central part of Illinois was once a tailor. Thomas Hoyne, a rich and eminent lawyer of Illinois, was once a bookbinder. Erastus Corning, of New York, was too lame to do hard labor, and commenced as a shop boy in Albany, when he applied for employment first, he was asked, "Why, my little boy, what can you do?" "Can do what I am bid," was the answer that secured him a place. Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, was a shoemaker. Thurlow Weed was a canal boat driver. Ex-Governor Stone, of Iowa, was a cabinet-maker, which trade the late Stephen A. Douglass also worked at in his youth. Large numbers of men of prominence now living, have risen from humble life by dint of industry, without which talent is as useless as a gold coin on a barren island. Work alone makes men bright, and it does not alone depend on the kind of work you have to do whether you rise or not. It depends on how you do it.

Braids and Switches.

Some time since when it was announced that the story that jute braids and "switches" were infested with insects, was merely an invention of the enemy, the women took heed and built higher and stronger. But now a distinguished chemist, who has been investigating the matter, says that although it is true that there are no parasites in jute, still it is sure to destroy the human scalp if allowed to remain long in contact with it. He says that in the preparation of jute corrosive sublimate, a most deadly mercurial poison, and nicotine, the essential principle of tobacco, are used, and that the jute, becoming brittle like spun glass, breaks into small particles, which enter the pores of the scalp, and, introducing the poison, cause first a slight irritation, and afterward serious ulceration. Similar, though less marked efforts follow the wearing of other substitutes for the natural covering for the head, so that evil results follow in any case. The facts are not stated in the expectation that they will make the least difference in the sale or use of the article, but simply that we may be able to say to the multitude of bald-headed women ten years hence, "we told you so!"

English Coal Fields.

In a recent lecture by a geologist engaged on the Royal Coal Commission, the opinion was expressed that the coal fields of England had originally been joined together in one large area, but that by various changes, such as downthrow, the various fields had been separated. The intervening spaces, it had been conjectured, covered coal, which, however, was buried so deep that it could not be worked with profit. It was asserted that considerably more coal lay concealed at workable depths than appeared in the fields. The South Staffordshire field, it was asserted, contained 3,201,672,216 tons of coal; the Warwickshire, 458,652,714 tons, and the Leicestershire, 836,899,735 tons, making a total of 4,497,124,664 tons. Underneath the Permian strata of rock of the above fields it is estimated that there are to be found 14,664 millions of tons of coal.

TRUSSES.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done.

This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the epxense of the person's life.

Rupture is too serious an injury to be treaed wtith lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured, with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr. Keyser always has on hand.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

THE VITAL DRAIN.

It is necessary to the health of the body that its exhausted and refused particles should be carried off by the excretory organs, and it is equally necessary that the waste matter thus expelled should be replaced by new elements derived from digested and assimilated food. It is evident, therefore, that good digestion and perfect assimilation are essential to bodily vigor; and it is because Hostetter's Stomach Bitters powerfully assist these processes that it is regarded by the intelligent classes, whose opinions are founded on observation, as the only absolute specific for dyspepsia and its attendant ills, at present known. When the system, either from constitutional causes, overwork, excess, anxiety, or actual disease, is in an unnaturally relaxed condition, something more than its exhausted particles passes through the pores. Vitality leaks through these ventages. Elements which should remain in the blood and enrich it are evolved, and that fluid becomes than watery and incapable of removing the solids of the body as fast as they decay. The consequences are emaciation, debility, nervousness, loss of spirits, and a general, or perhaps a rapid, decline of all powers of life. It is in cases like this that the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters are most conspicuous. The first two or three doses sometimes produce a change in the feelings and aspect of the invalid that is perfectly astonishing, and by a persevering use of this superlative vegetable tonic and alterative, the vital drain is sure to be arrested, the strength reinstated, the flesh restored, the constitution reinforced, and the brain relieved of the cloud that obscured it.

This company was organized for the purpose of importing and distributing Teas and Coffees for one small profit, and it was started with a capital amply sufficient (half a million dollars) to carry into effect, in a thorough and complete manner, our well matured plans. Added to this large capital, we have many years' experience in importing, buying, testing, and selling Teas to all sections of the country. And, as we have business connections with all the principal ports in China and Japan, thus receiving our goods direct from place of growth, our customers are saved from all intermediate profits.

All our Teas are selected with reference to our trade, and graded to established standards, so that all orders can be duplicated as often as desired, with the certainty that the same flavors and qualities will be sent, and at the lowest prices at which the goods can be imported and sold.

We conduct our business upon the true commercial principles of ONE PRICE—ONE SMALL PROFIT—and buy and sell for CASH ONLY.

We think our Thea-Nectar is the best Tea in the market for general use, and for the quality it certainly is the cheapest. Thea-Nectar is the pure black Tea, with the Green Tea flavor. Wherever it has been introduced it gives the fullest satisfaction.

Our business title we have copyrighted as a Trade Mark, under the laws of the United States, and cannot allow any one to use it or infringe upon it.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, July 18, 1872. }

The wet weather dampens the money market as well as most everything else. The applications for loans to-day were exceedingly light. Borrowers, like old sailors, pay considerable attention to the weather. They prefer a fair sky to a bleak one, knowing that bank directors are much more likely to discount on sun-shiny days than on murky muddy and dark ones. Gloomy men and gloomy weather are things that ought to be left to themselves, and so far as undertaking anything momentous or hazardous with the former or on the latter, people ought to be exceedingly cautious. The coal men of this vicinity are very busy, and seem to be an exception to those who grumble about rainy weather. So far, about three million bushels of coal have already left our landing on the present rise for ports below. The large amount ready for shipment will make the aggregate larger than any previous run that has yet been made, and the returns for it will be largely welcomed by the institutions that are sometimes put to in seeing their black diamond friends through during the dog days. The rise in the river will have a beneficial effect on other branches besides the coal trade, who seldom have the benefit of a July rise in getting their products to the southern markets.

We notice amongst the arrivals to-day, Mr. Kurtz, of the prominent and well known firm of Kurtz & Howard, bankers, Philadelphia. As already remarked, the magnetic influence possessed by Pittsburgh is attracting the moneyed men of the country to the Iron City, and a generous welcome should at all times be extended to them. Such firms as that of Messrs. Kurtz & Howard looking into matters here, is one of the pleasant signs of the times that gives the press pleasure in noticing.

In stocks and bonds there is nothing reliable to quote. Real estate is still active, notwithstanding the weather, and the sales this week will be up to the average.

Gold touched 114⅜, fell to 114¼ and closed firm at 114½@114¾. Loans 2@3½ per cent. for carrying. Clearances $32,000,000. Treasury disbursements $473,000. The Treasury sold $1,000,000 at 114 47-100 to 114 52-100. Governments dull and steady. State bonds dull. Stocks opened dull and steady, but in the afternoon displayed strength and activity, particularly in Wabash and Pacific Mail, which each advanced nearly one per cent., but partially reacted before the close. Erie heavy, in sympathy with London prices, falling to 52. The rest of the market is without material change, the whole list closing firm. Money easy at 3@4.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, July 18, 1872. }

ASHES.—Quiet and unchanged.

APPLE.—Are coming in freeley, but they are mostly common in quality; the most of the sales are within the range of $2@$3 per bbl, although anything good would bring more.

BUTTER.—There is considerable inquiry for strictly prime, and it is in limited supply: sales to-day at 18 to 20 cts. Low grade butter continues dull.

BROOM CORN.—Is quiet and unchanged; 5 to 8 cents per lb.

BEANS.—Small sales at $2.50 to $3 per bushel.

CHEESE.—Is in good supply, and is coming in freely, but prices are unchanged; 10 to 10½c for Dairy; 11@11½c for Factory; and 12@12½c for Goshen.

CONCENTRATED LYE.—$5.50 per case.

CARBON OIL.—The jobbing trade continues very light, and prices are nominally unchanged.

CEMENT.—Rosendale, $4.25@4.50 per bbl; Louisville, $2.25@2.75; Akron, $2.50@2.75; Calcined Plaster, $4.50; Land Plaster, $2.75@3.00; Cleveland and Perrysburg Lime, $1.75@2.00.

COUNTRY BACON.—Our market is almost bare. Country Lard is higher, and we advance our quotations to 8@8½ cts.

DRIED FRUIT.—Is very quiet, and there is so little doing that it is difficult to give quotations.

EGGS.—Continue dull, and, notwithstanding the arrivals are by no means large, the suppy is fully equal to the demand; 16 may be regarded as the ruling quotation, although some dealers still quote at 17.

FLOUR.—We can report a steady local trade, and the market is firmer, although prices are without quotable change; $7.50 to $8.25 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $8.50@9 for red winter. Rye flour, $5.50.

GRAIN.—There is still considerable inquiry for small lots of Wheat from country millers, and we are reported sales of red winter at $1.75 to $1.80; these figures it should be remembered, are considerably above the views of city millers, but, as a rule, an article is generally considered worth whatever it will bring; and while it is true that no considerable amount could be sold at the above quotations, it is also true that there is very little wheat here to sell at any price. We clip the following from the Chicago Tribune in regard to wheat: "It is noteworthy that the last report of the Department of Agricultural, which gives a 98 per cent crop, bids fair to be exceeded by the next published estimate, as the condition of the wheat crop in the United States has vastly improved since the material for the last report was forwarded to the Department. The wheat crop never promised much better than now, and unless it should be interfered with in the shock by rains we can scarcely have other than an abundant crop. It is true that incipient rust is reported from some sections, but that is far from being general. Another point is, that though our receipts of wheat are small, they are in excess of those of the same period last year. We seldom receive much wheat during June and July. Our stock here is larger than it ought to be at this season, and shipments are practically stopped by the fact of relatively high prices; under these circumstances it is almost a wonder that our stock should have decreased some 81,000 during the past week." Oats more active and if anything firmer, but there is no change whatever in prices; 40 to 42 cents. Shelled Corn is quiet and unchanged at 58 to 60, and the same quotations will answer for car. Rye is quotable at 80 to 85. Little or nothing doing in Barley.

GROCERIES.—Coffee is reported quiet and a shade lower in the east; sales have been made of cargo lots within the past few days, at a reduction of ¼ to ½ a cent. Sugars continue fairly active but there is no change whatever in prices.

REFINED SUGARS.—Crushed, 13¼; granulated, 13; powdered, 13¾; A, 12; B, 11¾; Ex C, 11¾; C, 11¼; Circle C, 11⅝; Chesapeake, Ex C, 11¼; Lovering, 11¼; Knights C yellow, 10½.

COFFEE.—Fancy, 24½; prime, 23½, good, 22½; fair, 22; roasted. 27.

SYRUPS.—Fancy drips, 70; white; choice syrups, 65; good, 55; fair, 50; common, 35@40; blackstrap, 25.

MOLASSES.—Choice New Orleans, 80; Porto Rico, 65.

RICE.—Carolina, 9¼@10; Rangoon, 7¾@9; Patna, 8 to 8½.

HAY.—Is in fair demand and we can report sales mostly in small lots within the range of $25 to $30, according to quality and condition. The recent heavy rains are bad for the new crop, a good deal of which is cut and lying in the field.

HEMP.—Kentucky rough, $130 per ton.

LARD OIL.—There has been considerable cutting of late, and prices, in consequence are irregular, ranging all the way from 67 to 72 cents for No. 1 extra.

POTATOES.—Market rather firmer; and we now quote at $2.50 to $3.00 per bbl.

PROVISIONS.—Plain Shoulders, 7c; Sugar-cured Shoulders, 10c; Breakfast Bacon, 11½c; Rib Sides, 8c; Short Rib Sides, 8½c; Clear Sides, 9c; Sugar Cured Hams, 15c; Dried Beef, 18½c. Lard, in tierces, 10c; half bbls, 10¼c; pails, 11½c. Mess Pork, $15.00. Ham Sausage, 10½c.

POULTRY.—Spring chickens 50 to 60 cts per pair; old ones, 70 to 80 cts, according to size.

RAGS.—Sales at 3¼@4cts per lb.

SALT.—Quoted at $1.75 per barrel by the car load, and $1.90 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS.—There is a steady demand for flax seed, and little offering; we continue to quote at $2.

TALLOW.—Is steady at 8 to 8½ cents.

WILLOWS.—Offerings light; sales in a small way at 10 cts.

WHISKY.—Highwines, in a jobbing way, 92@93 cts—an advance.

WOOL.—Trade continues rather quiet in consequence of a wide difference between dealers and producers, and it is likely to continue so until the market becomes more settled. We quote prices nominal at the following:

Coarse and medium fleece	60 to 62
Fine fleece	55 to 60
Tub washed wool	60 to 65
Unwashed wool	30 to 35
Do coarse	35 to 40

Wool Markets.

NEW YORK.—The Shipping List, of the 17th, says: The continued favorable advices from the London auction sale, causes a somewhat better inquiry from manufacturers here, but the general dullness in the Goods market prevents much business at the prices demanded for Wool. Manufacturers continue to work on light stocks, in the expectations of higher prices for their products or lower prices for the raw material. Cape Wools are dull, and we hear of no sales of importance. In Carpet Wool there has been a little more inquiry, though transactions are light. The sales are 20 bales Cape at 39 cents, and 15,000 lb. unwashed Lima, on private terms; and about 2000 lbs. fine English Noils at 72 cents. The receipts of most discriptions of Domestic continue light; Texas is in good stock, but Georgia comes forward slowly. Farmers are asking full prices, which has the tendency to restrict business. The sales are 5@6000 lb Western Fleeces at 68 cents; 20,000 lb Lake and Georgia, 55@57; 16,000lb Texas, 46@50; 10 bales Oregon, 48; 2000 lb Colorado, 40; 10 bags unwashed combing, 57; 225 do super and extra Pulled, 65@80; 160 bales Fall California, 25@27½; and 9000 lb Spring do, 25, usual terms.

BOSTON.—The Shipping List says: "There has been a fair demand for Wool the past week, the sales comprising 47,500 lb Domestic, and 350,000 lb Foreign—in all $25,000 lb. Our market presents very little change, Favorable advices from the London sales imparts a firmer tone to the market for all kinds of Foreign, and it is now very generally believed that prices have touched their lowest point. Domestic is still rather unsettled. There is no margin for purchases at any point in the interior, and arrivals are very backward, compared with previous years. At this time last year, our market was well supplied with Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania Fleece, but now there is not even an assortment of these Wools to select from, and quotations are for the most part nominal. Not over 65@70 cents per lb could be obtained for good X and XX Michigan and Ohio, and, with a good supply of Foreign offering, manufacturers are indifferent about purchasing even at these prices. The advices by mail and telegraph from the London sales are quite favorable. Large purchases of Colonial Wools are understood to have been made by Boston and New York houses at from 15d to 17d. for New Zealand and Port Phillip, with a shrinkage of 52@60 per cent., costing here from 55 to 58 cents per lb currency.

PHILADELPHIA.—There is very little movement, but prices are without material change. We quote Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, XX washed fleece, 70@72c; X do, 69@70c; medium and coarse do, 72@75c, combing and delaine do, 82@85c: Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and other western fleeces, X and XX washed fleece, 67@70; medium and coarse do 70@74c: combing and delaine do, 82c; fine unwashed, 47@50c; medium and coarse unwashed, 52½@55 combing and delaine, unwashed, 65c; choice picked tub, 75@77c; fair tub, 74@75c inferior tub, 65@70c; No 1 city pulled, 65@70c; merino city pulled, 62½@67c; country pullings 60@65c.—Gazette.

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK.—The market for Scotch Pig is quiet, but importers are very firm in their views owing to the recent advances on the other side, and the belief that prices must shortly take an upward turn. Several arrivals of Gartsherrie have gone into store, as the cost and charges on the importations cannot now be obtained. We quote the range for No. 1 brands $48@$55, here and to arrive. We notice sales of 425 tons Glendarnock at $50, and from 800 to 1000 tons sundry interior brands on terms we did not learn. No. 1 American is very firm at $52 @ 53 —the hot weather causes a decrease in the production, and very little is now being made; No. 2 is more plenty, but without sales of moment. We quote No. 2 $50 and Gray Forge nominally $48. English rails are quiet and nominal at $72 @ 73 good, for new, but sales have been made at less than those figures. Some 2000 tons have changed hands, but the terms we could not learn. In old we notice sales of 100 tons T at $48.50, and 700 do. English and American $49, both gold; and 500 do., delivered at Philadelphia in 30 days, on private terms. We quote new American $84 @ 87.50 currency, and old do, $48.50. Scrap is without change and nominal. 1700 tons Wrought, on the spot and to arrive, sold on terms not made public. Refined Bar from store continues unchanged, though there will no doubt be an advance in a few days, as the present price is far below the cost of importation.—Com. List.

PHILADELPHIA.—Pig Iron is firmly held. Sales of No. 1 foundry at $53; No. 2 at $51@52; Grey Forge at $48; Scotch pig at $47@48, and mottled $43@44 per ton. Old rails sell for shipment at $51 ℔ ton, and nails at $5 65 ℔ keg.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising slowly last evening, with seven feet eight inches in the channel. The rains at headwaters could not certainly have been as heavy as they were here; otherwise there would doubtless have been more water than there is; however, the rain continues; at this writing there is no prospect of it subsiding, and there will certainly be a still further rise within the next twenty-four hours. At present there is a good stage of water for barges and some of the lighter coal boats, but two or three feet more would let them all out, both large and small, and this is most earnestly desired. There were heavy rains yesterday and the night preceding, and we imagine that there will be plenty of water for the coal men within the next twenty-four hours.

It is impossible to state, with any degree of correctness, how much coal will get out, as all depends on the water: the amount allotted to each boat will be guided altogether by the stage of the water at the time of departure.

There has not been a single arrival from below since the date of our last report, and business at the main landing was just as flat yesterday as it was a week ago when there were but eighteen inches of water. There is but a single freight and passenger boat in port, the Messenger, and she is still laid up.

Capt. Evans, of the Exchange, expects to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh again on Saturday. She will be kept in the trade while there is water.

Quite a number of the coal fleet were busily engaged yesterday in getting their tows in readiness, though, of course, they will not be in a hurry about leaving until the river commences to fall. Some of them are taking portions of their tows down through the "bad places" and then returning for the rest, which is an excellent idea.

—In December 1867, two men took passage at Memphis on the St. Mary, Captain T C. Sweeney, for St. Catharine's. She left Memphis about dusk, with Mr. Elijah Pierce at the wheel, and arrived at St. Catharine's at 2 A. M., the night being very rough and stormy. The two men left the boat there, making no complaint whatever. About a year after the St. Mary's on her way to New Orleans, was attached in Memphis at the suit of some man living in Georgia, who proved to be one of the passengers above mentioned, for $20,000 damages. Captain Sweeney could get no information as to the nature of the damage sustained by the man, but gave bond and preceeded on the trip. About one year after this first suit, the St. Mary's on her way to New Orleans, was again attached at Memphis, this time for $10,000. The captain again entered into bond. The cases were tried recently in court, and Captain Sweeney gained them both, but only after it had cost him $1,000 to defend them.

—James P. Kilbreth, of Cincinnati, bought the Mason City Coal and Salt Company's property, at assignee's sale, on the 8th inst., for $87,500. The proceeds of the sale of real estates, personal property and all, will amount to about $100,000. The salt furnace is now running under the superintendency of J. A. Waddell, who has been in charge of the property since the beginning of 1868.

—The Ironsides arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday bound from Cairo to Pittsburgh, having turned her tow over to the Iron Mountain. She was to have left for this port on Wednesday morning. Pilots, Sam Parker and W Gosney.

—James Milligan, an old river man, committed suicide by hanging, last Saturday, at Wellsville, O. He leaves five grown sons and daughters. Recently he had been connected with the Pittsburgh & Cleveland R. R.

—The Ruby was purchased at Cincinnati on Tuesday by R M Dodson, of Maysville, for $5,000. She will be continued in the Kentucky river trade until fall.

—The wreck of the Black Hawk, lying in the channel between Cairo and Mound City, is said to be the worst obstruction in the lower Ohio, and the snag boat J. J. Abert is assigned the duty of removing it during the coming low-water season.

—The La Belle, undergoing the process of lengthening, at Madison, will be ready for business in about two weeks.

—The Chas. Bodman, Robert Mitchell, and Louisville are all laid up at Cairo.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner. Spermatorrhoea or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured. Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated. The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 276 Penn street. ja10:d&W

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson,

Beg to inform their friends, patients and the public generally, that owing to their increase of practice they are compelled, reluctantly, to discontinue their branch office in this city, and in future are to be consulted only at their HEAD OFFICE, 1625 Filbert Street, Philadelphia.

Just published: PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS ON NERVOUS DEBILITY AND PREMATURE DECAY, being a synopsis of Lectures delivered at the great Institute of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, to which is added an important essay on MARRIAGE, the whole illustrated with numerous interesting cases from actual practice. This interesting work will be forwarded on receipt of 25 cents, stamps. Address DRS. JORDAN & DAVIESON, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. All letters will receive immediate attention. Address 1625 FILBERT STREET, Philadelphia. mh29:d90

JOB MOSES' SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS.—These invaluable Pills are unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. They moderate all excesses and remove all obstructions from whatever cause. To MARRIED LADIES they are particularly suited. They will in a short time bring on regularity, and although very powerful, contain nothing hurtful to the constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, they will effect a cure when all other means have failed. The circulars around each package give full directions and advice, or will be sent free to all writing for them, sealed from observation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—It is the fate of every valuable medicine to be COUNTERFEITED. Job Moses' Sir James Clarke's Female Pills are extensively COUNTERFEITED. The genuine have the name of "JOB MOSES" on each package. All others are worthless. Dishonest Druggists endeavor to sell the counterfeits to make greater profits.

N. B.—In all cases where the GENUINE cannot be obtained, One Dollar enclosed to the Sole Proprietor, JOB MOSES, 18 Cortland street, New York, will insure a bottle of the genuine, containing Fifty Pills, by return mail, SECURELY SEALED from any knowledge of its contents. ja1:v17-eow-W

Vegetables Condemned.

Meat Inspector, Zehnder, of Allegheny, during a tour of the Market House yesterday morning, observed that a large quantity of vegetables were offered for sale which were altogether unfit for human food. He condemned several bushels of peas, cucumbers, and quantities of lettuce, and made the owners convey them to the Allegheny river and there deposit them.

O. O. of K. S.

A banquet was given, last evening, to the officers of the G. C. of the Oriental Order of the Knights of the Sun, at the residence of A. B. Connelly, East Birmingham, the supreme head of the order in the United States. The luxuries of the season were served up in sumptuous style, and what, with wine and toasts, the occasion was a feast of reason and flow of soul as well as of material viands. The O. O. of K. S., as the new order is termed, is rapidly gaining numbers in this locality, and bids fair to live long and prosper.

Alleged Fraud.

Joseph Steiner yesterday made an information before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, charging Andrew Sanders with fraud. Steiner is a member of a German benevolent society and the defendant is its agent. Steiner alleges he has paid his dues regularly and that he is, therefore, entitled to $10 a week when sick. He has recently been unable to work for four weeks on account of illness, but Sanders has only paid him $10, and refuses to give him the balance. Sanders states that the money has been withheld under instructions from the society. A hearing will be had to-day.

Struck by a Train.

About 8 o'clock yesterday morning a resident of Hazlewood named Stephen Stackhouse, while walking along the track of the Connellsville Railroad near Soho, was struck by the tender of the Braddock's Accommodation train and seriously injured. It appears that the man had stepped to the right side of the track in order to keep clear of a freight train which was going east. The accommodation was coming along at a moderate speed and the engineer seeing Stackhouse blew the whistle and the brakes were shut down. Before the train could be stopped, however, the tender struck the man and threw him over the bank. His injuries are not considered to be of a very serious nature. He heard the whistle but supposed it came from the freight train, which had just passed him.

Bold Robbery.

About half past eleven o'clock yesterday morning while a gentleman was walking on Penn avenue near the forks of the road, a stranger accosted him and inquired what time it was. The gentleman pulled out a valuable gold watch and was about answering the question when the stranger snatched the time-piece from him, breaking the chain, and ran off. The gentleman assisted by officer Herr started in pursuit and overtook and captured the thief. The man gave up the watch and the officer started with his prisoner for Deputy Mayor Nichols' office. When near the office of that magistrate some roughs interfered for the purpose of rescuing the prisoner. A fight ensued during which the officer's head was badly cut, the thief rescued and his escape effected. It is to be hoped that he will be rearrested and punished, as so bold a robber should be put out of harm's way. The roughs who interfered should be arrested and summarily dealt with.

The French Band.

This famous band will arrive in our city Tuesday next, and not Monday as has been erroneously stated, and will give two concerts, one on Tuesday, the other Wednesday evening. The members of the band have been especially anxious to visit Pittsburgh, and stipulated in their agreement, that their stay should be prolonged at least two days, in order that they might have an opportunity of inspecting our manufactories and learning something of the business which has given Pittsburgh a world-wide fame. The Frenchmen have their own French cook, French waiters and French attendants—traveling in thorough French style.

There will be a meeting of citizens held at the Mayors office to-day, to take some action in reference to awarding the visitors a proper reception. It is to be hoped that our city will not be behind in its hospitalities to the representatives of our ancient friends, and that the Frenchmen will learn that we are great not only in manufacturing enterprise, but great also in those kindly fraternal courtesies that make every visitor stay among us an agreeable episode that will often be recalled with pleasure.

Summer Dry Goods.

Among the first-class retail dry goods houses in this city that we notice as having a very fine and large assortment of summer goods is that well and so favorably known of Moorhouse & Carsten, corner of Market street and Fourth avenue. This house, when occupied by C. H. Love, was known to be one of the very best in the city, and since the young merchants above named have become the owners and put that youthful vigor into the business that young men usually do, it is surprising the many young ladies, as well as old, are to be found dealing with them. The reason is very easily explained by paying a visit to the store and seeing the well selected stock of goods, all fresh-looking, the old stock having all been sold months ago, and of the very latest styles. To enumerate the different varieties of dress patterns, besides the hundreds of other articles belonging to a dry goods' store, that we saw there, would occupy more space than we can give this morning. Another feature and a very important one to the heads of families, is the reasonable prices they sell their goods at. Indeed, comparing the prices with some other stores, and for the same goods, it is astonishing; and yet these gentlemen are satisfied and doing a large business. Success to them.

SOUTH PITTSBURGH COUNCIL.

Special Meeting.

The Council of South Pittsburgh held a special meeting last evening. Present: Messrs. Kerr, Cready, Brown, Haines, and Burgess Murray in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Burgess stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of taking action on the proposition made by the officers of the P. V. & C. R. R. Company. The communication of the railroad company read as follows:

PITTSBURGH, July 17, 1872.

John Murray, Esq., Burgess:

DEAR SIR:—The Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railroad Company requiring the lot owned by you on Carson street, for tracks, would respectfully make the following proposal:

To exchange Lot No. 403 Carson street for your lot, and the Company will remove the engine house to said lot. They will place it on proper foundations, leaving it in as good order as it is now. Hoping this will meet your early approval, I remain respectfully

JOHN SCOTT,
Vice President.

The communication was received and the proposition of the company was approved.

Mr. Cready moved that a committee be appointed of which the Burgess shall be chairman, who, in connection with the Solicitor, shall take the proper steps to have the proposition consummated.

Mr. Cready moved that the Street Committee be instructed to have the sewer crossing Carson street at the Castle Shannon Railroad platform cleaned out. Carried.

On motion adjourned.

CITIZEN'S IN COUNCIL.

Enthusiastic Meeting of Representative Colored Republican Voters—Delegates to the State Convention Elected.

In the Franklin School House, in the Seventh Ward, there assembled last evening, in accordance with the primary meetings held on last Monday evening, a convention of many leading colored Republicans of this city. The attendance of delegates was full, while the lecture room was crowded with citizens.

The convention was called to order by Mr. G. S. Woodson, Chairman of the Executive Committee, who stated the object of the meeting, as called in the city papers, to be for the election of seven delegates to the State Republican Convention to be held at Harrisburg, August 20th, 1872, and also members of the Colored Republican Executive Committee of Pittsburgh. The credentials of the various districts were called for when the following were found to be present as delegates: G. S. Woodson, M. Jones, R. P. Thompson, A. B. Loyd, James N. Owens, Thomas W. L. Arnett Sales, F. J. Hall, L. F. Woodson, Edward Matthews, H. Bennet, Henry Harris, G. W. Massey, Charles Jones, Alfred Hawkins, Geo. Lovett, A. D. Johnston, L. Googins, I. F. Harris, J. W. Askins, J. H. Johnston, John Hatfield, I. C. Harris, W. H. Smith, Elias Manly, W. H. Simpson, Thos. Gatewood, H. Anderson, A. Watkins, S. Christian, R. E. Jackson, P. Burley, J. C. Brown, N. Davis, G. Burkett, Fred Reagan, W. L. Miller, P. J. Carson, G. Singleton, Charles Jackson.

After the presentation of the credentials a committee of five was appointed to nominate officers to serve until their successors were duly elected. The committee reported the following: President, G. S. Woodson; Vice President, J. F. Harris; Recording Secretary, J. H. Johnston; Corresponding Secretary, P. J. Carson; Treasurer, Paris W. Burley. The organization then proceeded to elect delegates to represent the colored Republicans of Pittsburgh in the State convention with the following result: Messrs. P. J. Carson, G. S. Woodson, R. E. Jackson, W. L. Miller, J. C. Harris, W. L. Arnett and R. A. Hall attendants, J. C. Brown, Thomas Gatewood, S. F. Harris.

A committee of fifteen on finance was then appointed and after the adoption of a series of resolutions, able and eloquent addresses were made by Messrs. Gatewood, Carson, Watkins, Harris, Woodson and others, the convention then adjourned.

The proceedings were characterized throughout by a spirit of harmony and good feeling and developed the fact that our colored Republicans are getting ripe and ready for the approaching contest, and they will be all right in the end.

Allegheny Republican Club.

MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Preparing for the Campaign.

PERFECTING WARD ORGANIZATIONS.

A meeting of the Allegheny Union Republican Club was held last evening at its headquarters, south-west corner of Federal street and the Diamond. The President occupied the chair, and Mr. Theo. Myler acted as Secretary.

The first business in order was the receiving reports from the various committees.

Mr. Dilworth, of the Finance Committee, stated that he had received subscriptions amounting to $125 for the prosecution of the campaign, of which $85 had been collected. He also reported the names of several gentlemen who had paid in to him their initiation fee of $5, and who wished their names to be presented to the club for membership. The report was received and the gentlemen named admitted into the club.

On motion of Mr. H. M. Long, the Hon. Judge Shannon was elected a member of the club.

Mr. Myler, of the Committee on Halls and places of meeting, reported progress.

The committee on the organization of Ward Marching Clubs reported progress.

Mr. Hastings of the Committee on By-laws stated that the By-laws for the government of the club had been prepared and that they had been placed in the hands of Mr. Rogers for transcription.

Mr. Myler stated that a gentleman who had been the prominent mover in the organization of the Fourth ward Marching Club during the last Presidential campaign had called upon him, and asked what it was the intention of the Central Club to do in this direction. He suggested the advisability of appointing a few prominent gentlemen in each ward whose duty it should be to look after the perfection of such organizations.

The Committee on the Third Ward Stand, to be erected in the Diamond Square, reported that they were not yet ready to present any plan for a stand. It was thought that a good moveable stand could be procured for $150. At the next meeting of the club a plan would be presented.

Mr. H. M. Long reminded the meeting that one of the most important matters which it had to consider was the adoption of some arrangements for the reception of the two distinguished speakers who were expected to arrive at the end of the month, and who would open the campaign in this county. He thought it would be advisable to appoint a committee to arrange for their reception. He moved that such a committee should be appointed, and that it should be instructed to organize a marching club with at least one hundred and fifty torches, who should receive and escort the speakers.

The Chairman appointed Messrs. H. M. Long, Alfred Slack, J. E. B. Dalzell, William Porter and S. Hastings as such committee.

Mr. Long proposed that when the club adjourns it adjourn to meet on Thursday evening next, and advised that the committee in the mean time should correspond with the State Central Committee and ascertain exactly when the speakers might be expected.

After speeches by Messrs. Josiah Cohen, Myler and others the meeting adjourned.

A very handsome transparency was last evening placed in front of the headquarters of this club. It bears the likenesses of Grant and Wilson, the name of the club and the words "For President—U. S. Grant: For Vice President—Henry Wilson."

REVIVING AN ORDINANCE.

Liquor Saloons to be Closed at Midnight—The Mayor's Police Instructed to Arrest All Not Complying With the Act.

As was announced in yesterday's GAZETTE, Mayor Blackmore has determined to enforce the act of Assembly which provides that all liquor saloons and bar-rooms shall be closed at midnight, and be kept closed until the following morning at sun-rise. The police are instructed to return the names of all liquor dealers who do not comply with this order, and informations will at once be made against them, and the law be allowed to take its course.

Yesterday this action of the Mayor was quite generally discussed and many persons expressed the belief that the law providing for the closing at midnight had been repealed and another substituted. Many of the liquor men were of the opinion that though a law did exist providing for such closing, that it could be easily evaded and stated that if a saloon were closed at midnight, it could be immediately reopened without any offense against the law being committed. All these statements are however erroneous. The law under which the action has been taken was passed on the 17th of April 1867, and we publish for the information of our readers the following sections:

SECTION 5. All persons, thus licensed, shall close or shut up their bar or place of sale at or before the hour of twelve o'clock every night, and not open the same until sunrise next day, and on Sundays shall not open them at all, but keep them shut until Monday at sunrise.

Section 6 of the same law provides for the forfeiture of the license for violation of the preceding section, and section 7 gives the authority to constables and policemen to arrest any persons violating section 5.

It is under these portions of the act that the Mayor has issued his instructions. The fact leading to their enforcement was such that the Mayor could not disregard. It appears that several citizens called on him at his office and complained that taverns in the neighborhood of their residences were kept open all night. From these at all hours, noisy and disorderly persons were in the habit of coming out, and by their loud talking and other disturbances, making it altogether impossible for persons in the neighborhood to enjoy sleep. These citizens stated that if the Mayor did not do something to remedy the evil, they should take the law into their own hands and so try to prevent it. The Mayor certainly has the authority to issue this order, and it is to be hoped he will see that it is rigidly enforced.

POLICE NOTES.

The members of the McClure Township Band have asked the Mayor to find one of their number who has disappeared with $125, the pay of the band for furnishing music at the Barbecue on the Fourth.

John Rodenbach and his wife Mary were yesterday sent to the Work House for thirty days each, by Mayor Callow, on charges of disorderly conduct.

Samuel Pearson was committed last evening by Alderman Taylor for a hearing, on oath of Lena Hillman, for surety of the peace.

Felix O'Neill complains to Alderman Taylor of Michael and Anna McNearny for selling liquor without license. The parties live on Washington street. Warrants issued. William Kelly complains of the same parties for selling liquor on Sunday.

Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, yesterday morning took an information against James Reno, who is charged by Joseph Williamson with maintaining a nuisance on the public sidewalk in the shape of a morter box.

Bridget Fraleigh is the prosecutrix in a case against Robert Mullin, in which the latter is accused of disorderly conduct, and calling the deponent foul names.

Mayor Blackmore had thirty-two common cases before him at yesterday morning's early hearing.

John O'Brien, Joseph Barr, William Shields and Andrew Ellis were sent to the Workhouse for thirty days each by Mayor Blackmore, on charges of disorderly conduct.

Maggie Westfall, who was drunk and disorderly on the streets, was fined by Mayor Callow $25 and costs.

An intoxicated woman with a small child in her arms was yesterday brought before Mayor Callow. She had been arrested over night by Officer Atkinson. As she promised to behave herself in the future, and the child needed her attention, the Mayor discharged her.

A man named William France was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective James Scott on Penn avenue for acting in a disorderly manner. It appears that France went into the house of a lady relative on Liberty street while in a state of intoxication, and after making several threats, fired off a revolver in one of the rooms. The lady started for the Mayor's office, when France followed her and endeavored to stop her. A crowd collected and the Detective arrived just when he was making his noisy demonstrations. He left $50 for his appearance before the Mayor this morning.

Mary Wederfarth, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was last night fined $25 by Mayor Callow, and in default of payment was sent to the Work House for twenty days.

A man who gave his name as John Cook was last night arrested at the Monongahela House by officer McAfee on a charge of disorderly conduct. The prisoner had acted in a very ungentlemanly manner, and when remonstrated with by the Clerk, hit him in the face. He left thirty dollars for his appearance before the Mayor this morning.

CRIMINAL COURT.

The June Term Ended.

The June Term of the Criminal Court, which has been in session for over six weeks, was brought to a close yesterday morning.

The only case which was tried was that of the Commonwealth vs. James Giscoe, who was indicted for assault and battery. A verdict of not guilty was rendered and the prosecutor ordered to pay the costs.

The jury were then formally discharged, and Judge Sterrett proceeded to hear the argument for a new trial in the case of Thomas Sinclair, who was convicted of perjury and recommended to mercy by the jury. The Judge took the papers and reserved his decision.

During this term three hundred and ninety-one cases were placed before the Grand Jury. Of this number two hundred and sixteen true bills were found, and one hundred and nine ignored. In addition to these there were sixty-six surety and desertion cases on the calendar. Of the cases where indictments were found, one hundred and twenty-four were tried, and of these ninety-three received verdicts of guilty and thirty-one were acquitted. Among these cases were thirty felonies—twenty-one convicted and nine acquitted. Ninety-four of the cases were miscellaneous, of which seventy-two led to convictions, and twenty-two to acquittal. Of the remaining cases, ten forfeited their bail and absconded, and nine others "lit out" who were not under bail. All the remaining cases were continued for legal cause. Thus, with fifty-seven surety cases added, it will be seen that one hundred and eighty-three cases were disposed of. This result reflects great credit upon the District Attorney and the Court.

It is also worthy of note that in nearly every case where recognizances were forfeited, the Court required at least a portion of the amount of bail to be paid into Court, and where the parties absconded the Court refused either to moderate or remit the recognizances.

THE FRENCH BAND.

A Few Notes of its History.

The famous band of the Garde Republicaine of France has won such a reputation in this country that a brief description of its organization and the instruments used by its members may be found interesting. The band was organized by M. Paulus in 1854. It if now composed of fifty-four members, enlisted men who are entitled to a life pension after serving a term of twenty-five years. M. Palus associated M. Maury with himself as sous chef. This band has always a long list of applicants ready to fill any vacancies that may occur. Each one must have served in another band of the line for at least two years, and must be able to read and write. The Garde de Paris, to which the band is attached and which two years ago became the Garde Republicaine, is a regiment of 2,600 men—2000 infantry and 600 cavalry. Like the Household Brigade in the English army, this regiment always remains at the capital. To be a member of the band necessitates a comparative small amount of service, and each man can live wherever he pleases in Paris, wear citizen's clothes when off duty, and accept engagements whenever offered. Thus it is that nearly every member receives double pay. M. Maury is solo cornet at the Grand Opera. Three of the band are professors in the Paris Conservatory of Music. M. Silvestre, whom competent directors pronounce the smartest cornet player they have ever heard, is only twenty-two years old. Well might Dan Godfrey say that he could not expect to beat a band of picked professional musicians. The band is organized on the model of Adolphe Sax, which has been adopted for the military bands of the French army. The organization consists in reproducing in military music all the dispositions of ordinary music, increased considerably in sonority, inasmuch as military music is not often called upon to be played in the open air, and as its warlike qualities are its first requisite. The instruments used by the band are the following: two grand flutes in c, two petites flutes in b-flat, two hauthois in c, two petites clarinettees in e-flat, eight grandes clarinettees in g-flat, one soprano saxhorn in e-flat, three contralto soprano in g-flat, three cornets-a-piston, six saxophones, four trombones (with six pistons), three trumpets, two horns, three alto saxhorns in e-flat, two baritones in g-flat, four basses (with four cylinders) in g-flat, two contra-basses in g-flat, one contra-bass in e-flat, bass drum and two kettle drums and cymbals.

UNIONTOWN, PA.

The Crops—A Destructive Rain Storm—Words of Warning to Brownsville, etc.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Having been through the country somewhat, and having seen the wheat cut, I can say from my own observations, that the wheat crop of Fayette county is not one-half an average crop. The Deputy Sheriff, who has been riding all over the country says the same. Some fields, in some sections, are good as usual, but to where there is any such, there are two not worth cutting, in other sections.

A portion of the county, on a line with the pike leading from Brownsville to this place, was visited with a very heavy storm, wind, rain and hail on Saturday last, doing considerable damage to the corn and oats and washing more good soil off some fields, than will likely be put in again in the next five years. Persons living in cities can hardly form an idea of the damage that the country suffers from washing rains.

Berries and cheries have not been very abundant, but still sufficient to supply the demand without lowering the prices. Apples and pears are scarce, and peaches still scarcer through the country, so far as I could judge. Everywhere people are troubled, like the Egyptians of old, with swarms of flies, but they are always a sure sign of good health.

On a visit to Brownsville, I discovered that the citizens of that borough are doing but little, if anything, to secure the Valley Rail Road on this side of the river, saying that it will do them just as much good on the opposite side of the Monongahela. Too late will they discover their error, when they see work-shops of every description springing up close by the railroad, and their workmen moving into houses closer to their daily work, and even see people going from this side over the river with their marketing, and the same time making purchases. One thing is sure, if the railroad does not come to them, they must go to it; and the latter will pay the owners of bridge stock far more than the store-keepers of old Brownsville.

I sincerely hope they may have their eyes opened before it is too late. S. Y.

Etna, Pa.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—The rapid growth of the public schools of Etna borough has for some time past been attracting the attention of many interested in the cause of education.

The secret of its growth is that the people make its educational interests their first and best. Consequently their schools are at least ten years in advance of larger places not far distant. Their school board is composed of self-made, generous, independent men, who prize education above the Almighty dollar and wish to leave to the youth of the place an inheritance in the former. Their educational progress is proven by the fact that they have elected a lady to fill the position of principal of their schools. We trust this step, which deserves encouragement, will prove successful. CITIZEN.

Manufacturing Notes from Pittsburgh Mills.

The Pittsburgh Locomotive Works are urged to their full capacity with orders.

The October meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers will be held in Pittsburgh.

The Pleasant Valley Passenger Railroad are receiving cars from the Cleveland Bridge and Car Works.

Some of the heaviest work for the new Pittsburgh water works is being gotten up at Reese's shops. The pieces weigh from ten to fifteen tons.

Several firms are engaged on work for a new rolling mill which the Altoona Iron Manufacturing Company are to have erected at Altoona.

Lewis, Oliver & Phillips' Birmingham Mills have started again, without having stopped long enough to make full repairs, on account of a pressure of business.

An unusual demand for work will prevent many of the mills from making the usual extended repairs, and taking stock in detail, as has heretofore been the habit during the hot season.

Manufacturers on the south side of the Monongahela are urging the construction of a railroad for their accommodation. It is likely the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Company will supply this need, by an additional track or tracks near the river bank.

The question of moving rolling mills out of the city is being further seriously considered—not as a measure for beautifying the city, but as a practical and economical move on the part of mill owners, who want more room and more extended privileges, with less taxation. And nothing prevents the early removal of a large proportion of the mills to the many splendid sites along the rivers and railroads within a few miles of the city except the inordinate greed of land owners who have suddenly discovered that their property is worth something. Yet the city should pray that circumstances would favor the change as rapidly as possible, and give it more cleanliness and a more imposing line of buildings.

THE FATHER OF THE PERIOD.

Some of His Characteristics—What He Thinks About—What he Does, and What He Forgets.

We have heard recently a good deal about the woman of the period and the girl of the period, but so far as we have seen, no one has ever said a word about the father of the period. Whether all the men and women who have addressed us on these interesting subjects were of the opinion that papa was all right and mamma all wrong or not we do not know; but it looks very much as if they had arrived at that conclusion. If so, we entirely dissent from that theory. We believe that the fathers of the period are all, or nearly all, wrong, and that much of what is wicked in the world is to be attributed to these very gentlemen who have up to this time, strange to say, escaped the moral punishment of the newspaper, the pulpit, and the lyceum. We have not the space to pursue this subject to the extent that we should like to pursue it, and our remarks will therefore be very brief. The father of the period cakes as little interest in his children as the wild Comanche Indian in his savage offspring. In the morning he is off to his store or his counting room. The breakfast hour is, as a general thing, a reign of terror to his growing boys. If he condescends to notice them, it is only to growl at them about putting their knives in their mouths or about using their napkins as pocket handkerchiefs. If they are moderately quiet, and do not kick each others' shins under the table, and so interfere with his enjoyment of his mutton chop, he is content.

All that he wants is peace. Breakfast over, he probably condescends to pat the favorite on the head as he puts his hat on, and then for the balance of the day their care devolves upon their mothers and their teachers. At 4 or 5 o'clock, when the dinner hour comes, the breakfast routine is again gone through, and he is off to the political meeting, the club room, or to neighbor Smyth's. The children are put to bed, and he sees no more of them until the inevitable breakfast comes again. We do not think that we have been guilty of any exaggeration in this short sketch. This is the programme for years. It is true that he pays the butcher's bill, the tailor's and the shoemaker, and flatters himself that he has done very well when finally he has succeeded in starting them on the road to their own independence in some trade or occupation. In nine cases out of ten a boy is indebted to his father for simply this and nothing more. Is it all that he should do? During all these years golden opportunities for cultivation and improvement have been lost. If we have good boys around us, if the young men that are crowding us off the stage are all that they should be in every respect, it is more the result of pure luck than of the care and attention that they received, as a general thing, from their fathers. So much for the father of the period.

A JUBILEE correspondent of the New York Wold writes as follows of the musical lionne: "Just before Mme. Leutner left the room she took a draught of ice water from our tin cup, and I noticed that all at once most of our gentlemen of the press became unaccountably thirsty. And in their libations they were careful to drink all around the cup, so as not to miss the place touched by those rosy, melodius lips! There is a tin cup at press headquarters to-day but it is not the old one. That has been borne away as a sacred relic."

Vast droves of Texas cattle now line the great trail northward into Kansas between Red river and the Arkansas. The traveler is never out of sight of them.

Kate Fields, in her recent letter from Ems to the Paris Register, says her countrymen and women are making fools of themselves there. Kate is one of them.

A Kentucky paper says: "The famous Dr. Mary Walker, Esq., spent her youthful days in manufacturing compound cathartic pills in Breckenbridge county.

The Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States reports an actual accession to its communion last year of twenty-four thousand, one hundred and fourteen.

California contains a larger number of foreigners proportionately than any other State in the Union. The census shows 336,393 natives, and 309,839 foreign born.

The Omaha Bee doesn't mean anything personal, but opines that if the Omaha Postmaster would resign, "many persons would feel less anxious about their money letters."

Iron shingles have been recently patented, and are said to be less expensive than slate. They are made about six inches by thirteen inches in size, and fastened with headless nails.

The wine-makers will be bothered to obtain casks for this year's vintage. Oak will cost from fourteen to sixteen cents per gallon, and even at that price the supply will be very short.

No means have yet been introduced which can thoroughly prevent the escape of foul emanations from sinks and sewers. In Glasgow they are about to try the effect of using the large chimneys of chemical and other works for this purpose, and we may expect soon to have a report of the practical working of the plan.

Everybody will be glad to learn that the growing crops and general indications of thrift in the burned districts of the northwest are promising beyond those of any previous year. The relief service has been of incalculable benefit, and the people are back almost to the point where they were before the fire.

Sixty young officers have been dismissed from the Prussian army. They had obtained their commissions during the war for bravery in the field, and without having passed the ordinary examinations. They are now cashiered for not having succeeded in acquiring the necessary qualifications for passing.

The people of Louisiana are taking of abolishing their state lottery. A grand jury in New Orleans has taken up the subject there, and after portraying the evils connected with the system organised private lotteries, appeals to the people to discountenance the immoral institution and make such schemes illegal.

There are now in daily use on the Michigan Central Railroad fifty-one cars fitted up expressly for carrying butter, beef and eggs from Chicago to Boston and New York. An average of four of these loaded cars start East each day, and are inspected and re-iced at Detroit before they go further. Each car consumes four tons of ice on the trip.

It is noted as a remarkable fact that the beach at Long Branch is fast becoming useless for sea-bathing, by reason of its coarse, gravelly character, and the wash of the surf; while the beach at Atlantic City, hitherto thought somewhat dangerous from the latter cause, is now pronounced the best and least dangerous for bathing and driving along our coast.

The Treasury Department has under cosdideration the claim of the crew of the fishing schooner Rufus Choate for bounty. The Choate, laden with fish, was returning to Gloucester during the war, and was destroyed by the rebel vessel Tacony. Some objections are urged to the settlement on account of irregularities in the manner in which the crew was shipped.

The great question now, is not "who struck Billy Patterson," but what did B. Gratz Brown eat (not drink) that made him so suddenly and severely sick? The telegrams from New York say it was eating ripe cherries, but the Cincinnati Commercial declares "it was the heat and a breakfast on soft shell crabs." That is why he made such a crabbed speech at New Haven last week.

The Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States has fifty-three bishops (six missionary), two thousand nine hundred clergy, or one bishop for every fifty-five clergymen, two hundred and twenty-five thousand communicants, twenty-four thousand five hundred Sunday school teaches, two hundred and thirty thousand Sunday school scholars, and contributes for church purposes five million dollars.

The effect of convict labor is beginning to make itself felt outside of the prison walls of England. A numerously attended meeting of mat-makers was recently held in London, to protest against the condition to which prison competition had reduced them. It would certainly seem that the honest man, living by labor outside of a prison, ought to receive as much care as the rogue inside.

A letter in the National Gazette, of Zurich, says that at present out of some 400 students at the University of Zurich, there are eighty ladies in attendance, most of them students of medicine. A large proportion of these ladies belong to Russia, where the movement in favor of female education has taken very distinct shape, though they have not been able yet to establish a distinct medical college of their own.

Here is a paragraph from a foreign journal which goes to explain the effectiveness of the German army: "Sixty young officers have been dismissed from the German army. They had obtained their commission during the war for bravery in the field, and without having passed the ordinary examinations. They are now cashiered for not having since succeeded in acquiring the necessary qualifications for passing."

CARRIAGES.

How to take care of them—A few notes for the Coachman.

If these few rules are tacked up in the carriage house, for the guidance of the coachman, the carriage may be made to last longer and look better; the rules are taken from a small pamphlet published by a prominent carriage manufacturer.

A carriage should be kept in an airy, dry coach-house, with a moderate amount of light, otherwise the colors will be destroyed.

There should be no communication between the stables and the coach-house. The manure heap or pit should also be kept as far away as possible. Ammonia cracks varnish and fades the colors both of painting and lining.

A carriage should never, under any circumstances, be put away dirty.

In washing a carriage, keep out of the sun, and have the lever end of the "sets" covered with leather. Use plenty of water, which apply (where practicable) with a hose or syringe, taking great care that the water is driven into the body to the injury of the lining. When forced water is not attainable, use for the body a soft sponge. This when saturated, squeeze over the panels, and by the flow down of the water the dirt will soften and harmlessly run off, then finish with a soft chamois leather and old silk handkerchief. The same remarks apply to the underworks and wheels, except that when the mud is well soaked, a soft mop, free from any hard substance in the head, may be used. Never use a "spoke brush," which, in conjunction with the dirt from the road, acts like sand-paper on the varnish, scratching it, and, of course, effectually removing all gloss. Never allow water to dry itself on the carriage, as it invariably leaves stains.

Be careful to grease the bearings of the fore-carriage so as to allow it to turn freely. If it turns with difficulty, the shafts or pole will probably strain or break.

Examine a carriage occasionally, and whenever a bolt or slip appears to be getting loose, tighten it up with a wrench, and always have little repairs done at once.

Never draw out or back a carriage into a coach-house with the horses attached, as more accidents occur from this than any other cause.

Headed carriages should never stand with the head down, and aprons of every kind should be frequently unfolded, or they will soon spoil.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, that the following amendment of the Constitution of this Commonwealth be proposed to the people for their adoption or rejection, pursuant to the provisions of the tenth article thereof, to-wit:

SUMMER RESORTS.

LAKE HOUSE,
Stoneboro, Mercer County, Pa.
This celebrated house, having been recently refurnished, will be open for the reception of guests Monday, June 10th, 1872. Persons wishing to engage rooms or other information may address to
SAMUEL ROSENBURG,
Stoneboro, Pa.
This favorite Summer Resort is delightfully situated a few rods from Sandy Lake, the most beautiful sheet of water in Pennsylvania, and is well stocked with fish and pleasure boats. Fishing tackle of all kind under the charge of an experienced sailing master. Having refitted the billiard room and Tenpin alley in first class style, also barber shop, bath room and livery stable connected with this favorite resort.
Seekers for health, as well as for recreation and fine Rural Scenery, will find in the Chalybeate Spring, on the grounds, all the virtues of tonic treatment found at the most celebrated watering places. By chemical analysis, one gallon of water was found to contain 10.80 grains of Mineral substances, consisting principally of Carbonate of Lime, held in solution by Carbonic Acid Gas, associated with small quantities of Carbonate of Protoxide of Iron, Sulphate of Magnesia, Chloride of Sodium, and traces of Silicia and organic matter.
The analysis was made by the Professor of Chemistry in the Laboratory of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery. je5:u55
